

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, } ss.
Office of the Secretary of State,

I, Washington Gardner, Secretary of State of the State of Michigan, do hereby certify that I have compared the annexed and foregoing list of all the members elect of Senate of State of Michigan, for the years 1897 and 1898, with the original returns, as transmitted to me by the clerks of the various counties of the State, and that it is a true and correct list.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Michigan, at Lansing this fifth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

[SEAL.]

WASHINGTON GARDNER,
 Secretary of State.

All the Senators-elect, being present, then came forward, took and subscribed the constitutional oath of office and entered upon the discharge of their duties as Senators.

The Secretary then called the roll, and a quorum of the Senate was found to be present.

The President then addressed the Senate as follows:
 Gentlemen of the Senate:

I take this opportunity to congratulate you on your election to this body. It is a distinguished honor to be a member of the Michigan Senate. You have been commissioned with an important trust, in which there are responsibilities of considerable gravity, and those who have sent you here will naturally expect the most steadfast devotion on your part to the interests which they confide to you. It is to be regretted that the compensation which the State offers for the services rendered is not quite commensurate therewith; nevertheless this misfortune does not relieve either you or me, and the only proper thing for us to do is to serve the people to the best of our ability, and trust that they may in the near future do justice in this regard to the advantage of our successors.

I do not propose to make any suggestions with reference either to the character or manner of your legislation. You are, or will be, fully cognizant of the measures which are demanded by the people. It is reasonable to assume that there is no inexorable or pressing necessity for the enactment of a very great number of laws.

It is not infrequently a misfortune with which the masses are afflicted that their legislators are prone to burden them with more statutes than there is any reasonable demand for. If your deliberations during this session should result in the enactment of a less number of laws than have been enacted during any single session in twenty years, it would be a monument to your wisdom, and convincing evidence of the fact that you are alive to the people's interests.

Times during the past four years have been unprecedentedly hard. It has been, with the utmost difficulty, that men, who were formerly in affluent circumstances, have been able to support themselves and their families, comfortably. Distress and destitution, or at least business depression and reverses, have invaded nearly every community in the State, and have made it almost impossible in thousands of instances for property owners to raise the funds with which to liquidate the burdens of taxation. If a short session of this legislature should tend, even in the slightest degree, to lessen or reduce those burdens, then an early adjournment would be a very desirable thing.

A large proportion of the taxes of which the people complain are created by the administration of State affairs, and the maintenance of State institutions. It is scarcely necessary, therefore, to suggest the closest scrutiny of every item which may be incorporated in the estimates submitted by the several State boards, and that none pass excepting such as are demanded by the necessities of each particular case. On the other hand it should not be forgotten that parsimony or niggardliness in appropriating public moneys for public purposes is oftentimes the reverse of genuine economy. Our institutions, including our educational institutions, must be maintained, and it is a positive duty enjoined upon each and all to see that they have adequate funds with which to enable them to accomplish fully and effectively the purposes for which they were established.

In undertaking to discharge the duties of the office to which I have been elected, I shall be constrained to depend upon you for the successful performance of the same. Whatever good fortune may be mine will be due to your forbearance and generosity. From what I know of you, personally, and by reputation, I am assured that one of the happiest periods of my life will be the few months in which we shall be associated in this chamber. Permit me, Senators, to thank you cordially and sincerely, and in advance, for the courtesies which I know it will please you to extend to me during this session; and may we, collectively and individually and with some considerable degree of confidence indulge the hope, that we shall be instrumental, by the manner in which we shall discharge our duties in promoting the interests and in exalting the dignity of this great State, I trust I may be impartial to all of you, and in every particular, and that I may be of service to you as your presiding officer.

What is the pleasure of the Senate?

Lansing, January 7, 1897.

To the President of the Senate:

Sir—I am instructed by the House to transmit to the Senate the following message of the retiring Governor, Hon. J. T. Rich, this day delivered to the two Houses in joint convention.

The following is the message:

MESSAGE OF RETIRING GOVERNOR.

Senators and Representatives: In compliance with the mandate of the organic law of our State, that each retiring Governor shall communicate to the then incoming legislature such information in regard to the condition and affairs of the State as he may deem for the best interests thereof, together with such recommendations as to needed legislation as his experience shall have led him to believe wise and prudent for the welfare of society and the betterment of the condition of our people, I have the honor as well as the pleasure to submit the following for your consideration:

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

Treasury empty. The financial condition of the State is not all that could be wished. The funds in the State Treasury are practically exhausted and about sixty thousand dollars has been advanced by Wayne county on taxes now being collected.

This will necessitate the borrowing of a considerable sum of money to pay the expenses of the legislature and other expenses of the State government until the tax levy of 1896 can be collected.

Comparative improvement. There is, however, some consolation even in this statement. The State is in a better condition financially than at the close of the year for the last three years. December 31, 1893, the State had borrowed money and obtained advances to the amount of $392,759.54; in 1894, $251,840.18; in 1895 the borrowed money and advances amounted to $1,237,511.06, and in 1896 the advances amounted to $60,568.99. The estimates furnished the legislature of 1895 by the Auditor General contemplated that the amount would be sufficient to pay up arrearages and the current expenses of the State government until the tax levy of 1896 should become available. In anticipation of increased revenues from railroads, which were never realized by the failure of the House to pass the bill, and which would have yielded nothing to the general fund if it had passed, as the railroad tax goes to the school fund, the Senate Finance committee struck out $160,000, from the estimates. The increased cost of the insane, and other expenses over the estimates, made the deficiency December 31, 1895, considerably more than was expected. The cost of the State government for the year 1896 exceeded the estimates in the cost of the insane, in the allowances by Board of State Auditors, cost of collection of taxes, advances of money to counties to pay expenses of troops on duty, and in other expenses not anticipated.

Causes of deficit.

Where the increased expenses are found.

The delinquent tax list also increased $129,295. The cost of collecting taxes exceeded receipts by $93,647.93; but these lands will soon be homesteaded, thus ceasing to be an expense to the State, and will soon be bearing a share of the burdens of taxation. On the other hand, much more was collected of delinquent taxes of 1891, and previous years, than was anticipated. There has also been collected from counties $120,000, which was contingent on a judicial determination. It is impossible to state whether there will be a deficiency on December 31, 1897, but in view of the expenses incident to a session of the legislature, it is not improbable there will be. In making estimates of amounts needed, it must be remembered that the expenses of the State must be paid until June 30, 1898, on the tax levy of 1896.

Levy of '96 must carry the State until the middle of '98.

TAXATION.

The State institutions are becoming a greater expense year by year to the people of the State, yet all of them are well worthy of maintenance. The near future will demand additions to some, and in other cases new institutions will be needed. It needs no argument to show that our educational institutions, from the rural and primary departments to the University, should have a fair and reasonable support. Education is the foundation of a free government. There is no escape from the care of our penal institutions, though good business management may make them more nearly self-sustaining as a whole than they have been in the past. There are some of our charitable institutions, which not only appeal to every humane instinct, but their support is in the interest of the State, both present and future. The insane, feeble minded, epileptic juvenile offenders and dependent children of both sexes, must be cared for somewhere, and the question arises, whether by the State, or by the counties and smaller municipalities. From the experience I have gained during the past four years I am of the opinion that the State should care for them. There may be some objections to this, but on the whole, State care has more to recommend it than any other plan yet proposed. Few insane are actually cured, and but few feeble minded become able to take care of themselves outside of an institution. It is a wise public policy which provides for the keeping of these unfortunates and they should be prevented as far as possible from reproducing their kind. As long as only children are taken into institutes for feeble minded, and the feeble minded adults and the insane are permitted to raise families, this class of State wards will increase rather than diminish. It would seem, therefore, from all standpoints, that the State should provide well for the care of the insane and for the custody and detention of the feeble minded. It is also necessary that provision be made for the children from the poor houses in order that they may be brought up to be self-sustaining, which is done at the State Public school at Coldwater with remarkable success. Of the juvenile offenders, the boys are taken care of at the Industrial

School at Lansing, and although some of them finally lead criminal lives, very many of them are reformed, and all are prevented from leading a life of crime while they remain at the institution, and for a time afterwards. This is true even to a greater extent at the Industrial Home for Girls at Adrian, where the girls are now kept until they are twenty-one years of age, and then there is nothing left to do except to turn them out on society, if they are not before that time sent to their own homes, or admitted to the homes of others. There should be some provision whereby the girls who refuse to yield to the refining influences of the Home could be confined for at least a time. Even though they are not finally reformed, they are prevented while there from leading lives of crime and from polluting society. Leaving out of consideration the moral and humane aspects of the case, there is enough to justify the existence of this institution in a pecuniary sense, not only in protecting society from this class of people, but in preventing the reproduction of their kind to plague society in the future. In making this statement I realize that the farmers and other people who own real estate where there have been but few changes, note that their taxes increase year by year as the many public needs are provided for. This is looked upon as a hardship; and while in the aggregate, the taxes in Michigan have been moderate, it is the desire of everyone to relieve the burden of these taxes, if possible. I am of the opinion that if the State constitution were amended so as to permit specific taxes to be placed in the general fund, an amount sufficient to provide for the wants of the State government, well, could be raised in a manner much more equitable and less burdensome to the people than by the present method. In the first place we now have corporations which represent something like seven hundred million dollars of capital. One mill on a dollar of the capital stock of these corporations would produce $700,000 in revenue. One-third of the revenue derived from the liquor traffic of the State, which the municipalities could well afford to surrender in view of being excused from State taxation, would add another million to the revenues. The taxes now collected from insurance, telegraph and telephone companies could be safely transferred from the primary school fund to the general fund, leaving the tax on railroads to be devoted to the support of primary schools. There are franchise fees and fees derived from various other sources which would raise a large amount. Banks, building and loan associations, and mutual benefit and fraternal organizations could very properly contribute a small percentage for their own supervision, and to aid in paying general expenses. We also have a vast number of persons drawing salaries ranging from $500 to $5,000 per annum, or earning by personal or professional services like amounts, who do not now contribute anything toward the support of the State. One drawing a salary or earning professionally could much easier afford to pay the same rate of taxation on that salary or professional earning than could the owner of real or personal property. There is no doubt that for a very moderate percentage, much less than now levied on other property, from $500,000 to $1,000,000 could be raised from this source. One hundred thousand dollars could be raised by a tax of one half cent per gallon on kerosene oil. A large amount could be raised by a very small tax on evidences of indebtedness, without the usual disastrous results of taxing this class of property.

Evidences of indebtedness might pay a small specific tax.

Probable receipts from such specific taxes.

Advantages to be gained.

There would be no difficulty in raising from three to four million dollars in this way, which would increase as the population and property increased. This would relieve the people of direct taxation, and be so collected as to be in nowise burdensome. It would provide ample revenue for the support of our educational, penal, charitable and reformatory institutions, enable us to pay fair salaries to our public servants, and do many other things which the legislature very properly refrains from now doing on account of adding to the burdens of the taxpayer. If objection is made that manufacturing corporations are now paying taxes on their property the same as others, it must be remembered that they would be relieved from paying a direct State tax. If necessary, the percentage on capital stock could be moderately increased, and the usual exemptions given to their personal property by assessing officers could be legalized. It would seem to me that some change in the methods of raising revenue like that intimated above is well worthy of your serious consideration, in view of the constantly growing burden of taxation on real and personal property, and the fact that so many of those included in this proposed change do not now contribute anything, and would not thereby be required to contribute to a burdensome degree.

The question of taxation of railroads has agitated the public mind ever since railroads have been in operation. Michigan has always treated her railroads as public institutions, supported by the whole public and the whole public should have the benefit of their contributions towards paying the public expenses. In the light of experience it seems to me the present plan has many things in its favor. Under the present system the taxes are collected with a very minimum of expense. They can be increased or diminished as may seem equitable or desirable by simply changing the rate of taxation on the earnings. The people of the whole State, who contribute towards the support and maintenance of railroads, get the benefits of this method, and it makes little difference whether it all goes into the State treasury for State purposes, or whether it goes into the primary school fund for the support of schools, it practically relieves the taxpayers of so much burden of taxation. If it is attempted to assess railroads as other property is assessed, a town that is fortunate enough to have a railroad running through it would get all the benefits derived from taxation of the property of the railroad lying in that township, while an adjoining township, whose residents may contribute much more towards the maintenance of the railroad, but which the railroad does not traverse, would get no benefit. Then there would be a constant controversy and irregularity in the rate of assessments. Apparently, under such a system the large business centers, where nearly all the rolling stock and personal property of the corporation would be assessed, would get practically all the benefits, at the expense of the people of the rest of the State who contribute their full share towards the business of railroad companies. It may reasonably be questioned whether if such a system were adopted the railroad companies would not be driven in self defense to take their shops and rolling stock away from the large cities, and build up little towns of their own, devoted entirely to their own interests. It seems to me that the present system of taxing railroads, and the present manner of disposing of the funds derived therefrom, is more equitable and has more to recommend it generally, than any other system yet advanced. In making these statements I am not discussing the question as to whether railroads pay too much or too little taxes, but only to urge that whenever taxes are levied and collected the present system of assessment and disposition of the taxes is the most equitable and desirable for all concerned.

A specific tax on earnings the best method for all concerned.

Four years ago I used the following language in relation to railroads and renewed it two years ago.

Quotation from message of 1893.

"We have in our State a few railroads which were pioneers of their kind and were granted special charters with special privileges. They are today among the most prosperous of our great system of railroads. They have contributed much to the growth and prosperity of our State, and have reaped a golden reward therefor. They have now become an aristocracy, or privileged class of railroads, both as to rates charged and taxes paid. This condition is unjust to the general law roads, and unjust to the people of the State. A State is no more justified in a breach of contract than an individual, but in some instances the railroads have themselves broken the contract, and when this has not been done the charters themselves provide a means for their repeal.

Taxes on chartered roads.

"It only needs to be stated that railroads, like individuals, should be governed by the same laws, and be subject to the same burdens, for the support of the government. I trust this question will receive your early and careful attention."

Since then, the Michigan Central Railroad Company has accepted an amendment to their charter passed by the legislature of 1893, by which they were brought under the provisions of the general law taxing railroads at present rates; but that act has now become a part of their charter, and can be altered or amended only under the same provisions as the charter itself. Generally speaking, railroads are suffering financially about the same as other kinds of business, but the burden of taxation has been increased on all other kinds of property notwithstanding the reduction in income, and there seems to be no good reason why railroads should not share in the increased burdens.

If there is to be no change in the principle of levying taxes, the present tax law is operating better than any of its predecessors, and in such a way that no radical changes would be desirable. It is understood that the Tax Statistician will have some amendments to offer in the manner of assessing property, but nothing, as I understand, involving the general principles of taxation.

The present general tax law commended.

In connection with the question of taxation it might be proper to state that the bill passed two years ago providing for a clearance sale was, after careful consideration, not permitted to become a law for want of executive signature. Upon consultation with the Auditor General I ascertained that in the seven clearance sales previous to the adoption of the present system, only $63,000 had been received for lands sold by clearance sales. In his opinion much more would be obtained without making these sales. Experience has shown the wisdom of this decision, because up to this time under our present system more than $210,000 has been received. There has also been a large amount of land homesteaded.

Tax clearance sales a loss to the treasury.

STATE PRISONS AND PENOLOGY.

CONDITION OF PRISONERS.

The prisons of Michigan continue to show improved results in discipline, reformation and cost of maintenance. That they can be made, in the aggregate, self-supporting, is not probable, though, under favorable conditions, the one at Jackson should be. The annual net expense of keeping prisoners for the biennial period ending June 30, 1896, at Jackson was $21.55 per inmate; at Marquette, $147.61 per inmate; and at Ionia, $75.32 per inmate. For the biennial period ending June 30, 1894, the net annual cost per inmate at Jackson was $4.56; at Marquette, $219.36 and at Ionia, $215.34. While the cost of maintenance has been somewhat larger at Jackson, it shows a vast improvement at Ionia and Marquette. This has been brought about by change of methods, and by much more efficient management than heretofore. The prisoners have come much nearer earning their own keeping. The State account system has been employed mainly at the Ionia prison, while at Jackson and Marquette the prisoners have been employed under contract. During the past two years but few convicts at Marquette have been employed in productive industries, and for a considerable period the cost of maintenance at Jackson was increased by the long roll of idle convicts.

Comparative cost of maintenance at the different prisons.

CONTRACT LABOR.

The dull times make it as difficult to employ prisoners profitably as it does free men. In many prisons throughout the country it has been found very difficult to find any employment. The attitude of labor organizations toward the employment of prisoners has added to this difficulty.

The contract labor question.

Convicts were consumers before and are not less so in prison.

Under the laws of Michigan the boards of control may let the men on contract, employ them on piece work, or manufacture on State account. In my judgment this power should not be curtailed. With all these methods of employment it has been impossible to keep all the prisoners employed in such a manner as to contribute to their own support. In my opinion the contract system, when it can be employed, is the most profitable and desirable for all concerned, though it is the one most severely criticized by labor organizations and prison reformers. These men were consumers before they were imprisoned, and they are consumers still. Most of them were producers before they were confined, and it is not unreasonable that they should produce something to pay the expense of their conviction and maintenance. This should be done in such a manner as not to reduce the price of the products of free labor. Under the contract system the labor must be sold in the open market for what it is worth. The man who purchases it must furnish his own capital, sell his own goods, and compete with other manufacturers. Convict labor does not bring as much as free labor, nor is it worth as much, as experience has proven; nor is there anything to show that manufacturers who employ convict labor are, as a class, more prosperous than other manufacturers. Should it be shown that they were it would simply raise the price of convict labor. Now, under this system, the State receives the pay for each day's work, retains control of the prisoners and enforces its own discipline. The effect on free labor is not different from what it would be if the same number of free men were employed at the same work, except that prisoners will not accomplish nearly as much as free men. Under the State account system, the State must furnish active capital to purchase materials and tools, money to carry a stock of manufactured goods, and men to sell these goods to the public. Usually the work is done under the direction of inexperienced men, and is not successful as a business venture. In this State it has sometimes cost considerably more to the State to maintain prisoners employed on State account in manufacturing than it did to keep the same number of insane, kept under similar conditions, but kept in idleness. Under the contract system, the contractor must pay for his material and his labor, and sell at such prices as to leave him some profit or he cannot continue business. As he must purchase both material and labor in the open market, his competition with other manufacturers is legitimate, and in no way degrades free labor or reduces the market price of the products of free labor. On State account the conditions are different, as the State usually loses money on account of lack of interest and experience in the business. But the State does not have to make money; the State treasury is practically unlimited, and we can, if necessary, sell the goods manufactured at less than the cost of production, and thus not only reduce the demand for the products of free labor, but also reduce the price of those products.

GRADING OF PRISONERS.

The provision of the law in regard to the grading of prisoners has been carried out to a large extent during the past two years. It is safe to say that it has been conducive to great improvement in discipline, as well as a saving of expense.

Grading of prisoners.

The experience of the past two years has seriously raised the question as to the advisability of using trusty convicts in places of responsibility about the prisons, and very decidedly as to the wisdom of the employment of ex-convicts in responsible places in connection with the management of the prisons.

"Trustys" and ex-convicts are inimical to discipline.

Either proper legislation should be enacted or other means taken to prevent this practice in the future.

PAROLES.

The parole law has been in effect but a little over a year, during which time seventy-one convicts have received its benefits. Of this number it has been found necessary to retake and return to prison, for violation of the rules governing their parole, only four. Three of these were returned for using intoxicating liquors to excess, and the other for burglary.

Working of the parole law.

Under the provisions of the act, the wardens and boards of control of the several prisons were taken into counsel, for the formulation of rules relative to paroles. These rules provide that the prisoner must be in the first grade, and show by his conduct in prison that he is entitled to leniency. Then some person must be found who is willing to act as the first friend of the convict, and furnish guaranty of employment. The indorsement of the first friend and the approval of the parole is usually asked of the prosecuting attorney and sheriff of the county from which the prisoner was sentenced. As much of his previous history as possible is obtained. If these reports are favorable, the warden then recommends his parole to the board of control, after which it is sent, with their recommendation, to the Governor for final action. Licenses to go at large have been refused to several prisoners who have complied with the other requirements, for the reason that in the judgment of the executive, based on his information as to their habits before conviction, and what their surroundings would be if released, it would not be safe to parole them.

Rules relative to paroles.

While the warden is liable to be influenced by personal sympathy for the convict, with whom he is acquainted, and even the board is not free from this sympathetic influence, when the case reaches the executive it is deprived of its personality, and he will pass upon it according to the facts presented, and the probabilities as to whether the prisoner will comply with the conditions of the parole. It is not unlikely that more than needed conservatism has been exercised so far in the execution of the law, but it would seem better that this should be done rather than that the opposite course of being too lenient should be pursued, and thus defeat the purpose of the law. The results indicate that so far the law has fulfilled the expectations of its most ardent advocates.

The judgment of the executive a needed conservative check.

JUDGES' STATEMENTS.

Law relating to judges' statements commended.

The experience of the last four years, and more particularly of the last two years, has demonstrated that the conduct of a convict in prison cannot be relied upon alone as a basis for either a pardon or parole, but that information in regard to his previous character, his surroundings when at large, and the general make-up of the man, must be taken into consideration, and even then, after exercising all the caution possible, mistakes will be made. The act of 1895, requiring judges to report to the executive various facts in relation to the character and surroundings of persons sentenced to prison, has already been found to be of great value, and as time elapses, and the number of these reports increase, their value will be very largely enhanced. They are largely instrumental in giving a deserving prisoner the consideration he is entitled to, and equally effective in preventing the Governor and pardon board from being imposed upon after the immediate actors in the trial have passed away, or have forgotten the circumstances. This law may also be said to have in every way fulfilled the expectations of its friends.

Record of testimony in pleas of guilty.

In this connection I desire to call attention to the difficulty of doing justice in cases where persons accused of crime are permitted to plead guilty. The law now provides for an advisory board in the matter of pardons, and makes provision for the Governor to act in matters of application for both pardon and parole; but in cases where a plea of guilty has been entered neither the Governor nor the board has any information to work upon, except the conduct of the prisoner while in prison, and such testimony as those favoring his release may present. One case in particular has been brought to my attention where a prisoner was released from prison, who had pleaded guilty to the commission of a heinous crime, upon satisfactory proof that he was not guilty at all, but had been induced to plead guilty upon the assurance that his sentence would be lightened thereby, and the statement that there was no possible escape from conviction if he stood trial. It would seem to be a wise provision, in case a plea of guilty is entered, to make whatever facts the prosecution rely upon for conviction a part of the record, and if there is any substantial defense this should also be put on record. If this is not done there is not enough of the transaction upon record to impress itself upon the minds of the officials connected with it. In fact the whole record is a blank. If this were done it would enable the executive and the pardon board to act much more intelligently than they now can.

TRANSFER OF CONVICTS.

The law providing for the transfer of prisoners from one prison to another was wise legislation. A law should now be enacted requiring judges to sentence all first offenders, except for murder and other aggravated offenses, to the prison at Ionia; and then should they prove refractory, or not subject to reformatory influences, they should be transferred to the prison at Jackson or to the one at Marquette, as circumstances may require. Those now serving at Ionia, for second or third offenses, should be transferred to Jackson.

First offenders should be sentenced to Ionia prison.

In no other way can there be any successful separation of the prisoners. First offenders should not be placed in confinement with second and third termers, and in many other respects their treatment should be different. If a law were passed providing for a marked distinction between the sentences to be given to those convicted of first, second and subsequent offenses, and courts required to take account of that state of facts at the time of the sentence, it would be a healthful provision. For a first offense, unless it be an aggravated one, a short sentence would seem to meet the demands of justice. For a second offense it should be at least double that for the first, and for the third and subsequent conviction the sentence should be of still greater length.

Transfer from Ionia to Jackson and Marquette.

Distinction between sentences of first and subsequent offenders.

PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

The compilation of the laws authorized by the last legislature has been made, and is ready for publication whenever the legislature authorizes it to be done, but before this is done, I desire to call your attention to the fact that there are over three hundred private corporation acts on the statute books. Probably fifty acts could be combined into one, and the bulk of the statutes reduced at least a volume if this were done. There is also a serious question whether many of the acts passed for the incorporation of a single company or institution do not violate the constitutional provision that corporations shall not be created by special act, except for municipal purposes; this would simplify the laws and reduce expense, and be in every way advantageous to the people, the corporations, and to all persons interested.

Simplification of corporation acts into a few, desirable.

The franchise law should also be amended so as to more effectually reach foreign corporations. There is reputed to be from sixty to seventy-five thousand dollars due the State for franchise fees from foreign corporations. Some provision should be made for collecting this, and taking care of similar corporations in the future.

Franchise law should reach foreign corporations.

Some amendments should be made to the general corporation law. For instance, manufacturing and mercantile companies are required to pay in but ten per cent of their capital stock. It seems to me this should be increased to twenty per cent, with the regulation that at least ten per cent should be paid in cash. Mining companies are limited to $2,500,000 in capital stock, and are required to pay in nothing. If a mining company is in successful operation this is probably a small amount with which to do business, and they should either pay a franchise fee upon their capital and surplus, or the authorized capital should be increased to $10,000,000, which is not too much to successfully carry on mining operations under modern conditions. In my judgment no company should be permitted to organize without some property, and some money paid in. ■

Amendments to general incorporation law, desirable.

Law of corporation reports should be amended.

It is also desirable that some amendments be made to the law requiring corporations to report. They now report the amount of their capital stock, the amount paid in, and the amount of assets and debts, but they are not required to show what their assets consist of, or whether the business of the corporation is conducted upon credit of the company or by indorsers. The experience of the past two or three years has demonstrated that there is little use to regulate banks in regard to loans to corporations, unless there is also some regulation in regard to corporations as far as the character of their indorsers and the relations which the indorsers bear to the corporations are concerned. The law prohibits banks from loaning more than ten per cent of their capital stock to any one firm or corporation, but the law is evaded by making the papers in different form, but with the same responsibility. The corporation makes the paper and some member of the corporation indorses it, and in another instance some member is the maker and the corporation becomes the indorser. I realize that the enforcement of this legal provision would sometimes be a little embarrassing and might reduce the amount of business, but, in the end, I cannot but think that a proper regulation of this matter would be a healthful one for the people in general, as well as for the banks and business interests.

Protection of banks and corporations against themselves.

Building and loan associations—law inadequate to protect members.

The act of the legislature two years ago, authorizing the Secretary of State to make examination of the affairs of building and loan associations under certain circumstances was a step in the right direction, but it was believed then and proven now to be wholly inadequate for the purpose for which it was intended. These associations are the most complicated of any of the corporations authorized by law so far as examination is concerned. The stockholders and those in interest are many of them poor people, who know nothing whatever about their management or care. It seems quite as necessary that they should have an annual examination, and be placed under the supervision of some competent State officer, as that banks should be; and I would recommend that the law be amended so as to require at least an annual examination by some competent State authority, and such examinations as in the opinion of such State authority are deemed necessary. A small amount should be levied on each to cover the expense of examination, and something additional for the support of the State government generally.

There is even greater need that mutual benefit and fraternal associations should be placed under State supervision, than there is that they should be required to make an annual report. The majority of them purport to do a business which requires the most conscientious, honorable and painstaking administration of affairs, as they conduct a life insurance business in addition to their fraternal and social features. They should also contribute enough to pay expenses of examination and something besides.

Mutual benefit and fraternal associations should be under State inspection.

MILITARY AFFAIRS.

MICHIGAN NATIONAL GUARD.

The condition of the Michigan National Guard has very materially improved during the past two years. It is better equipped and better clothed than ever before. The troops show a great improvement in discipline and in the last two camps there was absolutely no complaint of any interference by the Guard with civilians, and the camp of 1896, especially, showed an observance of order which would be creditable to the regular army under the most rigid discipline.

Condition of M. N. G. improved.

During the month of September, 1895, companies D, F, G, and H, of the fifth regiment, and company H of the third regiment were ordered to Ishpeming to protect the property of the citizens there, owing to a strike of monster dimensions among the miners of that region. The duty of the troops was confined exclusively to the preservation of order and the protection of life and property. They remained there twenty days, and except for the death of one private caused by the falling of a tree during a severe storm, nothing unfortunate occurred, no breach of discipline was reported, and the conduct of the troops is deserving of the highest commendation. They were ordered out with scarcely a moment's notice, leaving their homes and business to remain away for over twenty days. It demonstrated that the National Guard can be relied upon under any circumstances for any legitimate duty they may be called upon to perform.

Strike at Ishpeming.

The excellent business management of the affairs of the National Guard is shown by the fact that the regular encampments have been held each year, and considerable additional expenses have been incurred by the repeated calls for troops. While there are many things greatly desired in the way of equipments, the State Military Board is out of debt, having paid all its bills, besides an indebtedness of $13,000 which existed four years ago.

Business management of Guard commended.

I trust there will be no legislation during the present session that will impair the efficiency of this most important portion of the State government.

A necessary part of the State government.

MICHIGAN NAVAL BRIGADE.

Naval brigade
commended.

The Michigan Naval Brigade has shown itself worthy of the support it has received at the hands of the State. From the report of the Secretary of the Navy it is evident that our Naval Brigade stands nearly, if not quite, in the front rank of the naval militia in the United States. It has never been called upon for active duty except once, at the time of the strike at Ishpeming, when, through a mistake, the first division at Detroit was ordered to report at once for duty. The order was almost immediately countermanded, but the zeal and alacrity shown in responding to the order was commendable to the highest degree, and demonstrated that they too could be relied upon for any legitimate services they might be called upon to perform, either for the State or for the general government.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE JUDICIARY.

Relief of Supreme court.

Among the numerous plans proposed by the legislature of 1893 for the relief of the supreme court, the one paying the judges an increased salary and requiring them to reside at Lansing and give their whole time to the work, was adopted. This plan has resulted in bringing and keeping the work of the supreme court up to date, and has accomplished all that was expected of it; but the great number of cases coming to this court is unmistakable evidence that some further measures to relief should be taken in the not-distant future. It seems of me the most practical plan would be to limit the amount in controversy that may be appealed. In making this suggestion I am not unmindful of the usual argument that it would deprive a poor litigant of justice, and that many times cases involving but small amounts are quite as important on principle as those larger; but when the whole matter is taken into consideration, it is safe to say that five poor men are deprived of justice by reason of their cases being appealed from court to court at an expense which they are unable to bear, where one is deprived of justice by being prevented from having his case appealed to a higher court.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

Work of State
Board of Health.

The State Board of Health has been in existence for twenty-four years. Its work has been along the lines of prevention, and the amount of good it has accomplished cannot be computed. It is doing a great deal of valuable work in collecting statistics, but more particularly in disseminating information in regard to the prevention of communicable diseases, and in other ways giving information that will save life and prevent sickness. The Board will present to you some recommendations for changes in the law and for additional appropriations.

There may be some new work proposed which it is hardly justifiable to take up at the present time, but this department is doing an immense amount of good at comparatively small expense, and what is needed for the dissemination of information, the collection of reports and the holding of sanitary conventions by themselves, or in connection with farmers' institutes, should be appropriated to its use.

Legislation
needed.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

The five thousand dollars appropriated by the last legislature for each of the years 1895-96 has all been expended, and institutes held in practically all the counties of the State. That they have been popular is shown by the increased demand for institutes in 1896, over the previous year, and it is reasonable to suppose a large amount of valuable information has been disseminated in this way. I would suggest in this connection that not only professors from the Agricultural College and practical agriculturists be secured to deliver talks at these institutes, but those from the University, as well, who can teach sanitation, physics, plumbing, drainage, rudiments of law and such other matters as may be instructive and valuable to those in attendance. The State Board of Health could also furnish lecturers who could give much valuable information in relation to the preservation of health, and the prevention of diseases, especially of communicable diseases. This would not only be the means of a general diffusion of much valuable knowledge but it would bring the people of the State and these institutions and boards closer together, give each a better understanding of the others, and be valuable in many respects.

Success of institutes already held.

Suggestions.

VITAL STATISTICS.

Heretofore the State has been to considerable expense in collecting vital statistics. The facts for the reports are collected so long after births and deaths have occurred that they are unreliable and inaccurate. There will be a proposition made to require burial permits to be issued in all cases, and the cause of death reported by the township clerk monthly to the Secretary of State and county clerk. I heartily commend this change in the law; it will not add to the expense, because it will use the machinery already existing, will add materially to the value of these reports and in fact make them the first approximately correct reports the State has issued on this subject.

Change in law
recommended.

FORESTRY.

Michigan, once covered with a wealth of forest, has been almost completely denuded, and much of the land from which the timber has been stripped is of little value for cultivation, especially in these times when even good lands will hardly pay the expense of cultivation. There are still some forests left, and much of the land could be utilized in the production of valuable timber in the future, as well as for the preservation to some extent of game and fish. This could very properly be placed under the general direction of the Commissioner of the State Land Office, with perhaps some assistance from the State Board of Agriculture, who have under their charge quite a large body of land yet unsold. This would in a few years prove of great benefit to the State, besides assist in reclaiming vast tracts which have become practically desert. Foreign countries are much ahead of us in this respect, as are the New England states. The times are hard for making very much of an appropriation but a moderate appropriation looking to some plan for finally establishing a forestry department of the State is well worthy of your earnest consideration.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

Work of the survey progressing.

During the last two years Vol. 5, including Dr. Rominger's report, which had been delayed for several years, has been published, and met with a royal welcome from all those interested in geology. The survey of Isle Royal has been completed, a large amount of work has been done in the counties of Huron, Sanilac and Monroe, and Vol. 6 is now in the hands of the printer. Taken as a whole, this work, which was so long delayed, and seemed to have some fatality attached to it, is being pushed in a vigorous, intelligent and comprehensive manner, and it will result in much more benefit to the State than it will cost.

MISCELLANEOUS BUREAUS.

The Commissioner of Insurance, Commissioner of Railroads, Commissioner of the Banking Department, Commissioner of Labor, Dairy and Food Commissioner, State Inspector of Oils, State Inspector of Salt, and State Game and Fish Warden, have all performed their various duties well, and these bureaus all show much improvement, and give unmistakable evidence of their right to exist. The Dairy and Food Commissioner has accomplished a great deal in the way of enforcing observance of pure food laws, and taking into consideration the length of time that the law has been in force it is being exceedingly well observed by dealers all over the State.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

UNIVERSITY.

Michigan University.

While it is not improbable that appropriations for new buildings at the University will be needed some time in the near future, it is to be hoped that nothing in addition to the very liberal allowance derived from the one-sixth mill tax will be asked for or granted this year. If this institution is to receive students from other states they should be required to pay an amount in tuition equal, at least, to the cost of their instruction.

Tuition of foreign students should be increased.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The State Normal School is reported to be in a prosperous condition, and fulfilling to a remarkable degree the purposes for which it was created.

Generally.

In the expenditure of the $25,000 appropriated by the last legislature for a training school the board seemed to have misapprehended the intention of the legislature. While the appropriation was but $25,000, its contract for the building called for an expenditure of $39,675. In this contract there was no provision for grading, heating, lighting or furnishing. The foundation of the building was laid before the attention of the executive was called to this action. The Auditor General was consulted and determined that he would not be authorized to pay even the $25,000 for a building which was likely to cost twice that amount. In view of this fact the board remodeled its plans and only covered a portion of the foundation, and as I understand it, will finish, furnish, heat and light it within the appropriation.

Training school appropriation.

CENTRAL MICHIGAN NORMAL SCHOOL.

By act No. 261, of 1895, the State Board of Education was authorized and directed to procure a deed of certain lands and buildings in the city of Mt. Pleasant, to be known as the Central Michigan Normal School. No appropriation was made for it, but the school has been under the direction of the State Board of Education since that time, although the people of Mt. Pleasant have borne the expense incident to its management up to January 1, 1897, and will now expect the State to bear all further expenses of the institution.

Institution designed as a training school for primary and district school teachers.

The design of the school was for the preparation and training of students for teaching in the rural districts and in the primary departments of the graded schools; it being the theory that the rural districts and the primary grades need trained teachers as much as do the higher departments of our graded schools. If this school is confined to this purpose, it can undoubtedly do a great amount of good at a comparatively small expense, but under no circumstances should it be permitted to duplicate the courses pursued at the Normal School at Ypsilanti. The graduates from the school at Ypsilanti are all absorbed by the cities and larger village schools, and the rural districts and primary grades get very little direct benefit from this school.

STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

This college continues its high rank among the other agricultural colleges of the nation. There have been some radical changes made, which promise to increase the usefulness of the institution, although they have been on trial too short a time to determine definitely what the result will be. It does seem, however, that an institution so well endowed, and affording such a wide range of opportunities for education should be more liberally patronized by the great agricultural classes of our State. It would seem that they do not fully realize the great advantages to be obtained here, or the attendance would be larger than it now is, or ever has been.

MICHIGAN MINING SCHOOL.

Rank and growth.

This institution stands well among the schools of its class anywhere in this or in any other country. The number of pupils in attendance is steadily increasing. It is located in the heart of the great mining regions of the State, and I believe is accomplishing the purpose for which it was established thoroughly and well. I understand that the eighty-six young men who have graduated from it, with one or two exceptions, are employed in their professions satisfactorily, and there are now in attendance one hundred and sixteen.

A change needed in the form of appropriation.

The board desire some additions to their present room, and will probably want some increase in current expenses. Under the present provisions of law, the appropriations for this institution expire on the first of January of the year of the meeting of the legislature, and they have no funds from that time until an emergency bill can be passed, or the regular appropriation becomes available. I think it would be wise to change the law so as to place it on the same footing as other State institutions in this respect. This institution is a technical one, and necessarily very expensive in proportion to the number of pupils in attendance. So far no tuition has been charged. The board are now considering the question of tuition, but will await the action of congress in relation to schools of this kind. It is reasonable to believe, however, that when this school is ready to give full courses with proper equipment, students will be required to contribute toward the expense of their instruction.

MICHIGAN SOLDIERS' HOME.

Economy of administration commended.

This institution is in very creditable condition indeed. Extensive improvements have been made in the water supply, in additions to the hospital, and in general repairs to the main building and the woman's annex. There is now an air of contentment and comfort about the institution which is very gratifying to an interested visitor. The board has not used all the moneys appropriated by the last legislature, but has a substantial sum left, and is entitled to great credit for giving a maximum of comfort for a minimum of expense. It will ask for no special appropriations this year as a board, but there will be requests from other sources for a dining room and kitchen addition to the women's annex. That this in many respects would be desirable is not denied, but the distance the inmates of that department have to walk to and from their meals is about three hundred feet; their other duties consist only in the care of their rooms, and on the whole they are exceedingly comfortable; in fact, more comfortable than they ever were before, and more comfortable than the average of our citizens. It would seem that no particular harm would result by postponing these improvements for two years at least. These improvements would probably cost in the neighborhood of $10,000, and would involve an increase of current expenses of from $2,500 to $3,000. This is a large increase of expenses when the number of inmates of this department is considered. It is probable that their numbers will be increased, but probably not to exceed fifty or sixty.

Additions to
not favored.

The increasing age of the inmates of the Home is likely to make it necessary within a few years for some radicals change in all its departments, and, in view of the large demands made upon the purse of the people, they should be satisfied without additional improvements for two years. Heretofore, appropriations have been made for the Home and the women's annex separately. As their care and management are so intimately interwoven there is no good reason why the appropriation should not be made in gross, so as to cover both institutions thus saving a large amount of work in bookkeeping and accounting, and arriving at precisely the same results.

Appropriations for home and annex should be in gross.

MICHIGAN HOME FOR FEEBLE MINDED AND EPILEPTIC.

The Home for the Feeble Minded and Epileptic, at Lapeer, has been completed as far as the appropriations were made in 1893, and two hundred patients are now accommodated therein. This is a new institution, and on lines new to the State of Michigan. There have been many things to learn, both by the board of control, and by the superintendent, but the knowledge gained clearly shows the wisdom of the establishment of the institution. The board recommends the building of six cottages in addition to the one provided for by the last legislature, which is now under contract for erection, which would make four cottages for the accommodation of epileptics, and four for the feeble minded, two of each class for each sex, and one to be used temporarily for an administration building. They also recommend the purchase of more land and the enlargement of kitchen, dining room and boiler room to meet the increased demands, as well as the building of a laundry. What is asked for is in the direction of the accommodation of the inmates rather than for the accommodation of the superintendent or officers, or for display. It seems to me that this is in the right direction. With the demands made upon the institution since it was opened for the reception of inmates, and the information gained in its management, it would seem that it is a right step in the interests of humanity and the practical solving of the question of providing for this class of unfortunates. After the necessary buildings are completed, and experience is gained in their training, the expense of maintaining them will be less in a State institution than in the poorhouses, and they will not be left as a burden on their friends or as a plague to society. I commend this institution to your most careful consideration.

UPPER PENINSULA HOSPITAL FOR INSANE.

Capacity at present.

Cost of care increased over other asylums.

By means of the appropriations made in 1895, the capacity of this institution has been increased to three hundred, and it now has about one hundred and eighty patients. They are asking for appropriations for three cottages, to accommodate fifty inmates each, and an addition to their infirmary, which will accommodate twenty-five patients, making accommodations for a total of four hundred and seventy-five inmates. This, it is estimated, will take care of all the patients whose residences are in the Upper Peninsula, and provide for the natural increase there and a little more. This is all the additional accommodations that will be asked for by the insane asylums this year, except for an acute hospital at Kalamazoo. It would not seem that the additions proposed are more than is needed. The construction, furnishing and management of this institution, so far, has cost a great deal more per capita than has been paid for the same accommodations in the asylums in the lower peninsula. A portion of this extra expense is due to its location, a portion is due to the character of the material used, but much more is owing to the necessity for guarding against the climatic conditions which have to be met. The State is now paying sixty cents per day per capita for the keeping of patients in this institution, while it is paying but forty-four cents per day per capita in the other asylums. It will, probably, always cost more to take care of the patients in this institution than in any of the others, but this very marked difference should not continue if it has proper management.

MICHIGAN SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

Stands high in comparison with others.

This institution continues to grow in the number of its pupils, the character of instruction given and the work done by it generally. It stands very high in comparison with similar institutions in the country, and is entitled in the future to a continuance of the very liberal support it has received in the past.

MICHIGAN SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

Well managed.

The School for the Blind is among the smaller of the charitable institutions of the State, but it is being exceedingly well managed, and is fulfilling the purpose for which it was intended in a very commendable way indeed.

STATE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

This institution, which has become very popular, because of the grand work it has done in taking homeless children and giving them good training and the rudiments of an education, and furnishing them with homes, has exceeded all previous records in providing these waifs with good homes, thereby reducing the expenses of the institution.

Its work a grand one and successfully carried out.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

The Industrial School for Boys continues to improve in the matter of its management generally, and in the training of its pupils.

Constantly improving.

INDUSTRIAL HOME FOR GIRLS.

This institution is doing remarkably good work, in saving a great many wayward girls, and making them good and honorable members of society, who would otherwise be the reverse, and its management of finances and methods of training are entitled to the highest commendation. As above stated, it needs some other institution to relieve it of the care of some of the older girls.

Is doing well in its sphere.

ASYLUMS FOR THE INSANE.

The Michigan Asylum at Kalamazoo, the Eastern Asylum at Pontiac, and the Northern Asylum at Traverse City, are in remarkably good condition, and are keeping fully abreast of the times, so far as the management of these institutions is concerned. The meeting once in six months of the joint boards of the asylums has a tendency to promote uniformity of management and the adoption of all the best methods of caring for the inmates in each. In these three large asylums the State is taking care of its inmates in a way that is creditable both to the State and to the public, and the State is receiving the largest amount of humane care for the smallest amount of expense that is consistent in the treatment of this unfortunate class of our public charges.

Care of insane creditable to the State.

MICHIGAN ASYLUM FOR DANGEROUS AND CRIMINAL INSANE.

This institution is intrusted with the care of a class of unfortunates that is perhaps the most difficult to manage in many respects of any under State care. It is well managed, both financially and in its methods of treatment of its patients. It has just completed an additional cottage for its use.

Excellent management.

STATE LIBRARY.

The State Library is increasing rapidly in size, and much more rapidly in efficiency. The traveling libraries provided by the legislature two years ago are already proving to be very popular, and serve to call the attention of the public generally to a fact which they have never seemed to realize before, that we have a State Library. It is worthy of a continuance of the liberal support it has had in the past.

Travelling libraries proving a success.

POWERS OF BOARDS.

Separate boards of management
commended.

The management of State institutions by separate boards, the members of which are appointed for long terms and serve for the honor and not for the compensation, has proven a very satisfactory method. If any one doubts this, he has but to visit the institutions themselves, or read their history in the past. There have been no defalcations, no moneys lost, and very rarely indeed any misappropriations made, while the duties devolving upon some of these boards have become so large and intricate that it may be well in the near future to provide more definitely what their duties shall be. The boards of trustees of the insane asylums have given a large amount of time to their duties without pecuniary compensation, and the condition of the asylums show the value of their work. This year the board for the Eastern Asylum purchased some land out of funds it had saved from its current expenses. I do not know as anyone has questioned the wisdom of this proceeding, or claims that it was not for the best interests of the institution, but when the accounts were presented to the Auditor General he held that there was no legal authority for them to buy real estate, and refused to audit the account. The board for the Northern Asylum at Traverse City did substantially the same thing and with the same result. It might be well to define in specific terms what these boards may and may not do; that they may make the necessary repairs and conduct the necessary business of their respective institutions, but that they shall not, without the express authority of the legislature, enlarge the capacity of an institution. Great care should be exercised by the legislature not to so curtail the powers of a board as to work injury to the large institution of which it has charge. In the powers of the other boards there is also a lack of definiteness which it is desirable to have prescribed by law.

Duties of boards should be more clearly defined by law.

It would seem wise that some law be passed to prevent boards from expending moneys, or making contracts for buildings in excess of appropriations made for that purpose by the legislature. If this practice of getting an appropriation and then building to suit the taste or inclination of the boards is continued there would hardly seem to be any use of having legislative sanction at all. It is unwise and unbusinesslike, and should be prohibited in the future. All charitable, penal and reformatory institutions are prohibited now from making contracts for buildings until after the State Board of Corrections and Charities have certified that in their opinion they can be completed within the appropriation. This provision does not apply to educational institutions, but I believe some provision of this character should be made.

Practice of building in excess of appropriations denounced.

In view of the vast amount which the State has invested and is likely to invest in new buildings and improvements, the time is not far distant when the plan adopted by the federal government, that of employing a supervising architect, should be adopted. This matter should not be left to the option of persons without experience in that line, and there should be some uniformity adopted in relation to State buildings and their plan and method of construction. In saying this I do not wish to be understood as claiming that this has not been reasonably well done in the past, but the time is fast approaching when a change will become necessary.

Employment of supervising architect suggested.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding this already long message, I desire to state that there are many officials and many departments of the State government, all important in themselves, to which I should have been pleased to give particular attention, but the number of these subjects to be treated, and the necessarily limited space of a message, has rendered such mention impossible. Had there been anything which I deemed deserved criticism, it would have been made freely, so that any who may feel aggrieved by being omitted from special mention may take it for granted there was no special criticism to make. The State is constantly growing, the demands of civilization are increasing, and the position of Governor has long since ceased to be a sinecure, if the incumbent discharges the duties which properly devolve upon him. It is not too much to say that all the departments of our State government, and all our State institutions, are in as good condition, at least, as they ever have been at any other period of our statehood, and I am proud to say that I believe in most cases there has been a very material improvement during the past four years.

General praise for State officials.

Executive office
no sinecure.

As members of the legislature you are to meet greater responsibilities than any of your predecessors, on account of the rapid growth of the State and the various increased demands of our institutions. In performing this duty you are called upon to exercise the best judgment in determining what is needed, and in the same connection what can be dispensed with, and the ability of the people of the State at this time to pay the expenses of the State Government. It is not always that additional State institutions are necessarily an increased burden to the people who pay the taxes. It many times means merely a transfer from the various municipalities of the State to the State itself. The history of the State shows that in all its departments its affairs have been well managed as a rule, and it is not too much to presume that you, like your predecessors, will discharge this obligation with honor to the State and credit to yourselves.

JOHN T. RICH.

PARDONS AND COMMUTATIONS.

To the Legislature:

In accordance with the provisions of Sec. 11, of Art. V, of the Constitution of Michigan, I have the honor to submit herewith a list of the pardons and commutations of sentence granted by me during the years 1895 and 1896, with the reasons therefor.

Very respectfully,

JOHN T. RICH,

Governor.

---

PARDONS.

HAROLD O. HENDERSON.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Ingham of breaking and entering a dwelling house in the day time, and sentenced for three years from December 8, 1892. Pardoned February 19, 1895.

Pardon is recommended by Pardon Board for reason that he does not evidently belong to the criminal class and that he did not intend to commit the crime for which he was convicted. His behavior in prison has been most exceptional, and the party most aggrieved has asked for his release. Believing that the ends of justice have been fully met by the time he has already been in prison, his pardon is hereby granted to take effect February 22, 1895.

FRANK J. DICKERSON.

Detroit House of Correction. Convicted in the recorder's court for the city of Detroit, of being a disorderly person, and sentenced for two years from December 8, 1893. Pardoned April 18, 1895.

This young man was sentenced at the request of his father for being a tippler, but from the evidence of the warden, the judge who sentenced him and the prosecuting attorney, it would seem that the purpose for which he was imprisoned has been accomplished and, as the offense was against himself rather than against the community, there appears to be no good reason why he should longer be confined. His release is recommended by the Board of Pardons.

GEORGE FOX.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Berrien, of rape, and sentenced for seven years from February 11, 1891. Pardoned August 13, 1895.

The pardon of Fox is recommended by the judge, prosecuting attorney, and numerous leading citizens of Berrien county, as well as by the Board of Pardons. There are grave doubts of his guilt, and in any event he has been sufficiently punished for the moral wrong committed. His release is therefore ordered.

BELA SHOUT.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Shiawassee, of larceny, and sentenced for three years from June 5, 1894. Pardoned November 23, 1895.

His pardon is recommended by the judge who sentenced him, the prosecuting attorney, and the Board of Pardons. He does not naturally belong to the criminal class and his sentence was rather severe for the offense committed, taking into consideration all the circumstances surrounding the case. The judge who sentenced him now says that had he then been in possession of all the facts as he now knows them he should not have imposed sentence exceeding six months.

JOHN M. DE WITT.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Iosco, of larceny, and sentenced for four years from December 3, 1892. Pardoned November 27, 1895.

His sentence was rather severe for the crime committed, taking into consideration all of the circumstances surrounding it, and believing on account of his age and his conduct in prison that the ends of justice have been fully subserved his pardon is granted.

OLIE J. WATKINS.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the recorder's court for the city of Detroit, for forgery, and sentenced for three years from June 12, 1894. Pardoned November 27, 1895.

There is strong doubt as to whether Watkins is guilty of the crime of which he was convicted. He has been an exemplary man in prison, has a wife and five little children who are much in need of his assistance in their support, and as he has already suffered sufficient punishment for the offense charged against him his release is ordered. His pardon is recommended by the board of pardons, and many prominent and influential citizens of Detroit have favored his release.

H. J. McNULTY.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the superior court of the city of Grand Rapids, of forgery, and sentenced for one year and six months from October 24, 1893. Pardoned January 16, 1895.

McNulty's term of imprisonment would have expired January 25, 1895. His wife died suddenly on January 15. As the time between that day and the expiration of his term was so short, and in order that he might go home to arrange for and attend the funeral of his wife, his pardon is granted.

JACOB ASHER.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Eaton, of conspiracy, and sentenced for one year from May 12, 1894. Pardoned February 19, 1895.

Asher is released on the statement of the prison physician that he is afflicted with cancer of the stomach and cannot live but a few days.

JOHN CLAYPOOL.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the recorder's court of the city of Detroit, of burglary, and sentenced for five years from June 1, 1893. Transferred from State Prison, at Jackson, to State House of Correction and Reformatory, at Ionia, April 20, 1895. Pardoned June 1, 1895.

Claypool was pardoned on the statement of the prison physician that he is dying of consumption.

JOSEPH P. MALADY.

Michigan Asylum for Dangerous and Criminal Insane at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Berrien, of burglary, and sentenced for seven years and six months from February 14, 1891. Transferred from State Prison, at Jackson, because of insanity. Pardoned July 24, 1895.

Malady's previous character had, so far as known, always been of the best. His people in New York state promise to take him home and care for him, and believing that a release at this time would greatly aid in his restoration to health and mind, his pardon is granted.

MARC J. BRONKHORST.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the recorder's court of the city of Detroit, of assault with intent to rob and sentenced for ten years from September 9, 1891. Pardoned January 20, 1896.

Bronkhorst was pardoned in order that he might go to England to care for his mother. The British consul at Philadelphia urged his release on this account.

BARTHOLOMEW SANDS.

State Prison, at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Oakland, of rape, and sentenced for life, from September 20, 1869. Pardoned January 28, 1896.

Sands is one of the oldest convicts in the State Prison, and is in feeble health, being continually confined in the prison hospital. He will not live very long. A good home has been provided for him with his sister in Saginaw county. The question of his guilt is not taken into consideration in granting his release.

JOHN McDONALD.

State House of Correction and Branch of State Prison in Upper Peninsula, at Marquette. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Marquette, of murder, and sentenced for life from February 19, 1890. Pardoned March 23, 1896.

This case has been under investigation by the Governor and Board of Pardons for the past four years, and a large amount of testimony taken bearing on the alleged offense, and it is the unanimous opinion of the Board of Pardons, based on this testimony, that McDonald is innocent of the crime charged against him. This evidence is of the most convincing character, and shows beyond a reasonable doubt that another person committed the crime. A question has been raised as to the character of the witness who gives this evidence. Her story is corroborated in many ways, but even standing by itself it is as much entitled to credit as that of the persons upon whose testimony McDonald was convicted, and with this distinction, that no motive can be found for her to tell anything but the truth, while in the case of the complaining witnesses their liberty depended upon McDonald's conviction.

WILLIAM H. STAPLEFORD.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Huron, of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and sentenced for three years from February 14, 1894. Pardoned May 1, 1896.

Stapleford is affected with a peculiar nervous disease, which can probably be helped by medical treatment, and believing that he has already served long enough in prison, he is released.

THOMAS DAUGHERTY.

State Prison, at Jackson. Convicted in the recorder's court of the city of Detroit, of breaking and entering a shop in the day time, and sentenced to five years from May 3, 1894. Pardoned May 12, 1896.

Daugherty is released solely on account of ill health. He is afflicted with pulmonary consumption, and will probably live but a short time.

SARAH HAVILAND.

State Prison, at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Calhoun, of murder in first degree, and sentenced for life from June 7, 1866. Pardoned May 13, 1896.

Mrs. Haviland is the only female convict in the State Prison, where she has been confined for thirty years. Her conduct has been most excellent, and she has on two occasions, by giving a timely alarm, been the means of preventing prisoners from escaping. She is quite aged and infirm, and has a good home to go to, where she can quietly spend her few remaining years.

JAMES TROY.

State House of Correction and Branch of the State Prison in the Upper Peninsula, at Marquette. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Gogebic, of burglary and larceny, and sentenced for five years and six months from February 16, 1893. Pardoned June 15, 1896.

Pardon is recommended by the circuit judge, prosecuting attorney and Board of Pardons, on the ground that since his sentence circumstances have arisen which seem to show that there is a reasonable doubt of his guilt. For this reason his release is ordered.

FAYETTE E. McALLISTER.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Kalamazoo, of seduction, and sentenced for three years and six months from December 22, 1893. Pardoned September 18, 1896.

Pardon is asked by judge, prosecuting attorney, and complaining witness, and is recommended by Pardon Board. Believing that the interests of justice have been fully subserved, his release is ordered.

FRED FOERSTER.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Roscommon, of perjury and sentenced for one year and six months from January 16, 1896. Pardoned September 18, 1896.

Under all the circumstances of the case it is considered that the boy has received sufficient punishment for the offense committed, and as his previous reputation had always been good, it is believed that no good can be obtained by his further detention in prison. His release is urged by both judge and prosecuting attorney, and is recommended by the Board of Pardons.

MELVIN RYON.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Shiawassee of rape, and sentenced for five years from May 21, 1894. Pardoned September 26, 1896.

Developments subsequent to the conviction of Ryon have convinced the prosecuting officer that he was not guilty of the crime charged. His pardon is urged by the judge who sentenced him, and by a very large number of the leading citizens of Shiawassee county, and is recommended by the Board of Pardons.

DANIEL SCHREYER.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Cass, of passing counterfeit coin, and sentenced for eight years from October 19, 1893. Pardoned September 29, 1896.

The sentence in this case is deemed an excessive one, in view of the fact that he was a victim. He was a mere boy, of good character and habits, with the exception of an occasional excessive indulgence in intoxicating drinks. The judge and prosecuting attorney join in a recommendation for his pardon. From the facts shown it seems impossible that any judge should have sentenced this boy for so long a term for such an offense.

JOSEPH SWEENEY.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the superior court of the city of Grand Rapids, of assault with intent to commit rape, and sentenced for ten years from January 5, 1892. Pardoned October 13, 1896.

Circumstances and facts that have come to light since the trial and sentence demonstrate that the testimony of the principal witness against Sweeney was totally unreliable, and creates much more than a reasonable doubt as to his guilt. The prosecuting attorney now believes him innocent of the crime. His release is recommended by the Board of Pardons after careful investigation and mature consideration of the case in all its details.

JESSE CARTER.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Berrien of manslaughter, and sentenced for fifteen years from February 2, 1893. Pardoned October 13, 1896.

Carter is a colored boy, and was nineteen years old at the time of the commission of the crime. Was sober and industrious and had always borne a good reputation. Facts have come to the knowledge of the prosecuting officers and Board of Pardons since the trial tending to show his innocence, and the recommendation of the Board is based upon that reason. The leading citizens of Niles, where the crime was committed, almost unanimously urge his pardon for this reason.

FRANK KABAT.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the recorder's court of the city of Detroit, of manslaughter, and sentenced for seven years from December 19, 1892. Pardoned November 6, 1896.

Facts have come to the knowledge of the officers of the law and the Board of Pardons since the sentence of Kabat, which impress them that the sentence was too severe, and for this reason, believing that he has already served sufficient time for the offense committed, his release is granted.

CHARLES PAUL.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the superior court of the city of Grand Rapids, of assault with intent to commit rape, and sentenced for six years from September 25, 1893. Pardoned November 25, 1896.

In view of all the facts developed on the trial, and of information obtained since the trial, I am convinced that Paul has been sufficiently punished. There are also grave doubts of his being guilty of the offense of which he was convicted.

LOUIS GERMAN.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Mecosta, of perjury, and sentenced for five years from July 23, 1896. Pardoned November 25, 1896.

German is pardoned on the recommendation of the Board of Pardons. Except for the verdict of the jury and the action of the court, it would be reasonable to presume that German was honestly mistaken in the dates given in his testimony upon which the question of his guilt depended, but he seems to have been unfortunate in being associated with bad company. Without questioning the correctness of the verdict or the action of the court, it would seem that, in view of the character of the man and his surroundings, he has been sufficiently punished for this crime, and that the law has been vindicated and society protected from this class of offenses. He is therefore given a full and unconditional pardon.

LETTIE PLINE.

Ionia county jail. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Ionia of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and sentenced for six months from December 10, 1895. Pardoned February 14, 1896.

Mrs. Pline is pardoned on grounds of humanity only. Reputable physicians certify that she is to become a mother in the near future. She is confined in a small room with another woman, and there are no rooms in the jail or at the control of the sheriff where other and better accommodations can be furnished. The physician further states that the woman's life is in danger if she remains in the room where now confined. Her sister will take her to her home and give her such care as her condition demands. She has served since December 10, 1895, on a six months' sentence. While it is not the purpose to reduce the punishment, it must be conceded that her condition makes her punishment much greater than was expected when she was sentenced.

HOWARD ALLEN.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the recorder's court of the city of Detroit of larceny, and sentenced for three years from August 3, 1894. Pardoned October 19, 1896.

Allen is pardoned at the behest of prominent citizens, and the recommendation of the circuit judge. The expiration of his term is near at hand, and he goes to Kansas, where he is to be furnished employment by his brother.

FRED FOOTE.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Genesee of murder in the first degree, and sentenced for life from March 1, 1886. Pardoned December 10, 1896.

Foote is a man about 33 years of age. The crime was committed while he was in a state of intoxication, and was, to a large extent, provoked. Public sentiment at the time of the trial was strongly against him, and his conviction of murder in the first degree is now conceded by the court officials not to have been fully warranted by the evidence. His release is urged by the judge and prosecuting attorney, and recommended by the Pardon Board. He is pardoned on condition that he abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages for the term of five years. A bond of $250 is given to insure his compliance with this condition.

SETH AIKEN.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Manistee, of manslaughter, and sentenced for ten years from December 19, 1890. Pardoned December 11, 1896.

Aiken is neither vicious nor an habitual criminal, and his crime was directly brought about by over-indulgence in intoxicating beverages. His release is urged by the judge and prosecuting attorney, and unanimously recommended by the Board of Pardons. The citizens of Manistee county generally ask for his pardon. He is a strong, healthy man, and a good workman at his trade, and there seems to be no doubt about his being able to obtain steady employment. For these reasons his pardon is ordered.

COMMUTATIONS.

HENRI CLOUGH.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of St. Joseph, of burglary, and sentenced for six years from January 26, 1891. Sentence commuted February 2, 1895, so as to expire February 4, 1895.

Sentence was a long one. Judge states that it was supposed that Clough was implicated in other offenses, but it has since been proved that he was not. His conduct in prison has been excellent. By his skill in a certain class of work he has earned enough to entitle him to consideration. It is believed that if he is released he will become a useful citizen.

CHARLES MAY.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Calhoun, of horse stealing, and sentenced for five years from June 9, 1892. Sentence commuted February 20, 1895, so as to expire March 25, 1895.

May stole two horses, one in Kalamazoo county and the other in Calhoun county. He was tried and convicted in Kalamazoo county and sentenced for two and one-half years, the judge taking into consideration the larceny of both horses, and the fact of his not belonging to the criminal class and not strong mentally. After serving the two and one-half years' sentence he was arrested and convicted in Calhoun county and sentenced to five years' imprisonment. The judge states that if he had known the circumstances he would not have imposed so severe a sentence, and believing that the ends of justice have been fully met his sentence is commuted.

JAMES HARCOURT.

State House of Correction and Branch of the State Prison in the Upper Peninsula at Marquette. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Chippewa, of manslaughter, and sentenced for ten years from September 19, 1891. Sentence commuted May 6, 1895, so as to expire May 8, 1895.

While the evidence at the trial failed to convince the jury that the shooting was strictly in self defense, it does show that Harcourt had reason to believe that Dunn would shoot him at the first opportunity. After a thorough investigation of this case the conclusion has been reached that in view of all the circumstances Harcourt has been sufficiently punished for the offense. This position is sustained by the recommendation of the jury before whom he was tried, by two separate and distinct pardon boards and by a very large number of prominent citizens of the State, acquainted with the two men and with the circumstances of the shooting. Interested friends have raised a small amount of money to aid him to start anew in life, far from the scenes of his past life, where he will follow an entirely different occupation from that in which he was formerly engaged.

CHARLES O. SEAMAN.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Macomb, of murder in the second degree, and sentenced for ten years from August 30, 1888. Sentence commuted September 26, 1895, so as to expire September 28, 1895.

The pardon of Seaman is recommended by the circuit judge, the prosecuting attorney and many of the best citizens of Macomb and Wayne counties, as well as by the Pardon Board. He is an actor by profession, and in order that he may have an opportunity to secure a position at the opening of the theatrical season his sentence is commuted. His good time would have expired February 28, 1896.

OSCAR STRAND.

State House of Correction and Branch of the State Prison in the Upper Peninsula at Marquette. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Iron, of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and sentenced for eight years from May 14, 1890. Sentence commuted October 18, 1895, so as to expire October 21, 1895.

This is a peculiar case and the injury done to the complaining witness was painful and disfiguring, but the man had a hasty trial and was defended by an attorney who had no time to prepare for the case. One man who was next to the two men when the injury was inflicted was not sworn on the trial and he now makes affidavit that he thought then and still thinks it was an accident. He has now served nearly five and one-half years, has a good prison record and the unanimous recommendation of the Pardon Board. In view of the doubt as to the malicious intention, it is believed that the ends of justice will be best subserved by his release.

CLINTON E. WORDEN.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the superior court of the city of Grand Rapids, of burglary, and sentenced for two years and six months from October 9, 1894. Sentence commuted November 23, 1895, to one year and six months.

Worden has quite apparent consumptive tendencies. He is not a confirmed criminal, and, in view of his youth, the condition of his health and the circumstances of his home life it is believed that clemency will be a material incentive to his leading a better life in the future. For these reasons his term of imprisonment is shortened.

STEPHEN KOSMITZKI.

State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia. Convicted in the recorder's court for the city of Detroit of malicious injury to property and sentenced for three years from January 31, 1894. Sentence commuted November 27, 1895, so as to expire November 27, 1895.

This boy prior to his conviction had borne a good reputation. His release is recommended by the judge, prosecuting attorney, and the Board of Pardons. In view of the fact that the sentence imposed was excessive under the circumstances and the defendant was led into the commission of the crime by others much older than himself, clemency is extended.

CHARLES SCAMERHORN.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Genesee, of rape, and sentenced for twenty-five years from November 30, 1883. Sentence commuted December 31, 1895, so as to expire January 1, 1896.

His pardon is recommended by the Board of Pardons, after a careful review of the whole circumstances connected with the commission of the offense, and also on the recommendation of the then prosecuting attorney, for the reason that under the law, as it is now, Scamerhorn could not have been convicted of more than taking indecent liberties with a female child, with a punishment not exceeding ten years. He has already served over twelve years' actual time, and, believing that he has been sufficiently punished for the crime committed, his sentence is commuted.

CHARLES W. ALLEN.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Van Buren, of murder in the second degree, and sentenced for twenty-three years from January 28, 1887. Sentence commuted January 11, 1896, to eighteen years.

Sentence was commuted to eighteen years in order that he might have the benefit of the parole law. His conduct in prison has been exemplary.

NORVAL A. HAWKINS.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the recorder's court of the city of Detroit, of embezzlement, and sentenced for three years from October 5, 1895. Sentence commuted December 24, 1896, so as to expire at once.

The punishment this young man has already received has undoubtedly accomplished all that longer confinement would do. There are some mitigating circumstances in the case. His previous record, and his record since incarceration, have been unexceptionally good. The parties injured are in favor of his release. A prominent manufacturer has signified his intention to give him a substantial position in his employ as soon as he is out of prison. His family is an eminently respectable one, and he will have every incentive to live a correct life hereafter. His release is urged by many of the most prominent and influential citizens of Detroit, and is recommended by the Board of Pardons.

EUGENE J. KIRBY.

State Prison at Jackson. Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Calhoun, of forgery, and sentenced for ten years from March 23, 1892. Sentence commuted December 24, 1896, so as to expire at once.

There are many mitigating circumstances in this case. It is believed that further punishment will be of no benefit to him. The injured parties have petitioned for his release, as have also the most prominent citizens of Marshall, where the crime was committed. His previous record was of the best. His prison record has been exemplary. He now has an opportunity for employment, which he might not be able to secure at a later period. It would seem that if he is ever to become a useful citizen now is the time. If he should prove to be a criminal by nature, it will only be demonstrated a little earlier than if he should serve out his sentence. His family is an honorable and respectable one, and it is believed he will have every incentive to lead the life of a useful citizen. For these reasons his sentence is commuted to expire at once.

JOHN T. RICH,
Governor.

Also the following message of the incoming Governor Hon. Hazen S. Pingree, this day delivered to the two Houses in joint convention. The following is the message:

MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR PINGREE.

His Excellency, Governor Pingree, then read his message as follows.

I desire to urge upon you as the law making power the necessity which exists for the amendment of several laws of the State, for the repeal of others and for the enactment of a few which I deem of vital importance. As representatives and servants of the people let us endeavor to work harmoniously, with no object in view but the public good. Michigan ought to stand in the front rank of progressive states. Her people desire that she should. Just laws will aid her, unjust laws will retard her. Whatever stumbling blocks have heretofore been placed in her pathway should be removed. The labor of removing them will not be an idle pastime. It will require united and persistent effort on our part. It remains to be seen whether we shall be equal to the great work. It is within your power to make the coming session of the legislature an ideal one. This can be done by the enactment of a few laws which will meet the approval of all patriotic citizens of this State and the commendation of every true member of our great republic.

Primary Elections.

If we would inaugurate reforms in our State government we must commence where the governing power originates, in party organizations and conventions. I would recommend that the political party caucus laws already upon our statute books be so amended as to abolish party conventions. If political corruption exists its origin can here be found. The true theory of party organization is that the best men should be chosen for election to office. This theory cannot be carried out under the present system. The caucuses and conventions have become the means by which the few obtain power and place.

Under a representative form of government the people should have free choice of their representatives. Any obstruction to such free choice should be removed. Syndicates of office seekers are formed, corrupt combinations are made, delegates are bought and sold, promises of position to unworthy men are often of necessity made, and the example is set before us that those who in the ordinary walks of life pass for honorable men enter upon the duties of public office under a cloud of suspicion and shame. The convention has become the medium of trickery, bribery and fraud. The higher criminal is here developed. The direct vote of the ballot holder for party candidates is the simplest means of expressing preference for representatives. If the people make mistakes they alone are to blame. The direct vote and the Australian ballot system is of less cost to the people than the convention system.

It is remarkable that so great has been the power of the few and ambitious that in a nation having a representative form of government and composed of forty-five great states, but two of those states vote direct to put party candidates in nomination, while every Canadian province has the direct vote, and for that reason is so much nearer the ideal republic.

Taxation.

The question which is always present and is never solved in any State or municipal government is the question of taxation, direct and indirect. Taxes are burdens which must be borne. The theory of the republican form of government is that they are borne equally by all owners of property in proportion to their wealth. If this principle does not prevail the government has favorites and therefore it is not republican. All exemptions and variations from this fundamental principle should be upon lines of public policy and for the greatest good of the greatest number.

The cost of government of the State should be lessened by the reduction of the charges of departments and of State institutions, proportioned to proper maintenance and administration, and to the reduced cost of living incident to the general decline of values. I also recommend, in order to the proper distribution of the public burdens, that all forms of wealth bear their just proportion of taxation. The policy of continuing the system of specific taxation of corporations as the sole resource of the State from such organizations which originated when the State was new and which favored the promoters of needed works for small and scattered communities has long been regarded with disfavor by the people of this State, who contend that the time has arrived when the well known inequalities of taxation should be adjusted and proportioned according to values.

There is nothing new or novel in this recommendation. In 1877, Governor Bagley took occasion in his address to the senate and house of representatives to emphasize the inequalities of specific taxation of corporate property, which he contended should be taxed locally according to its value like other property. In the same year Governor Croswell recommended improved methods for uniformity in levying taxes. In 1887 Governor Luce recommended the equalization of taxation and in 1891 recommended, for purposes of revenue, a tax on bequests, on corporations and an income tax. In 1891 Governor Winans recommended equalizing taxation as between classes of property paying specific taxes and property under assessment claiming that the assessed property pays double the tax paid by property upon which specific taxes are levied. He favored the local taxation of corporate property and doubted the policy of exempting any property from equal taxation.

It will thus be seen that the contention of the people against the system of solely specific taxation of corporations found expression at the capitol through several of the governors of the State regardless of party and as early as the seventies, and that the recommendations were in favor of taxing the property of the corporations as other property is taxed. The question, therefore, is one no longer for debate but for energetic action since it has been under consideration for twenty years. While I do not believe that the system of specific taxation and the method of its distribution in support of the common schools should be disturbed, I recommend that steps be taken in the form of local or general taxation to make corporations bear their proper share of taxation.

Fixing Railroad Tolls.

The right of the legislature to fix the maximum rate for passenger fares has been exercised ever since the first general enactment as to railroads, in 1855. In 1870 the people of the State amended the constitution expressly conferring upon the legislature the power to fix such maximum rates.

"The legislature may from time to time pass laws establishing reasonable rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight on different railroads in the State." Article 19-A Paragraph 1.

In 1873 there was a general revision of the railroad laws and certain rates were fixed. Amendments were made changing rates at various periods up to the final amendment in 1891, and generally speaking there has been a reduction of rates by legislative enactment.

It will thus be seen that any proposed reduction of railroad passenger rates of fare or of freight charges has its precedents in the changes made from time to time in the past history of these corporations. The right of the legislature to fix the maximum rates has been contested by interested corporations and the supreme court has held that the legislature has the right to fix such rates.

At the present time inequalities of passenger fares exist which should be adjusted by the legislature. Thus, for example, the Chicago & Grand Trunk Railway is confined to a local passenger charge of two cents per mile, while the Michigan Central and Lake Shore roads are permitted to charge a local fare of three cents per mile. It is also commonly known that passengers traveling from station to station in Michigan are charged more by the railroads than passengers who travel through the State from outside points. A passenger arriving at Detroit having paid two cents per mile over the New York Central and subsequently finding it necessary to go to Jackson pays a local fare of three cents per mile on the Michigan Central which is part of the same general line of road owned by the New York Central people.

What is true of discriminations by railroads in favor of through passengers as against local passengers, and of discriminations by the State in favor of one railroad as against another in the matter of maximum passenger rates, is true as to discriminations by railroads in favor of terminals as against local stations in the same State. All of these inequalities of charges are within the power or partly within the power of the legislature of Michigan to correct. And their correction in my firm belief would prove to be for the benefit of the railroad companies as well as for the people of the State. I therefore recommend that the legislature take into consideration the question of passenger fares at two cents per mile for Michigan.

The Referendum.

The referring of important acts of the legislature to a popular vote for final adoption by the people is the extension of the well known principle underlying the practice in this State of referring proposed changes of the constitution, and in certain local cases, matters of extraordinary expenditure involving the issue of bonds, to the vote of the people.

I am not prepared to state how far opinion favorable to the extension of this method of legislation has penetrated the State generally; but I am acquainted with the opinion of the people of the city of Detroit which is favorable to its extension to the granting of street railway and other quasi-public franchises as a check upon corrupt public officials

Trusts and Combinations.

There is growing up in this country a system of trusts and combinations which is becoming more and more impudent and extortionate. Its influence is felt in the home of every citizen. The necessities of life are made instruments of oppression in the hands of those who reap a rich reward from the weak and the helpless. Such trusts and combinations destroy competition and throw thousands of worthy people out of employment. For this reason the consuming power of the people is destroyed and the producing power to just that extent is affected. Such combinations are illegal upon the broad grounds of public policy, but wholesome laws should be enacted against them. I do not propose to suggest the form of the laws nor the penalties for their violation, but they cannot be too strong. In the presence of a threatened destruction of individualism and the breaking of the spirit of independent effort, it is high time that the makers of the laws should be the people's representatives, whose names are upon the roll of your houses, and not members of a third house who infest the halls of legislation for evil purposes.

It has been rumored that Michigan has been selected as the field for the operation of a company controlling vast amounts of wealth to obtain possession of the mineral resources of the State, and in connection therewith to control the shipping interests of the great lakes. Prices will be reduced at first, of course, but in the end the people will be made to suffer; heretofore the waterways of the State have been instrumental in keeping down freight charges on railroads, but if the shipping interests pass into the control of one gigantic company, it needs but one more step to stop competition between the railways and vessel men.

If upon investigation I find that we are seriously threatened with this danger, I shall in some future message communicate with you upon that subject.

State Control of Corporate Stock and Bond Issues—Property Rights Respected.

We should be extremely jealous of the reputation of our business interests. All investments should be given such guarantee of safety by law as to inspire confidence in those who deal with us. Capital should be encouraged to invest in the development of our varied resources. Investments made within the State should be governed and protected by wise laws and not be disturbed by frequent changes in the laws that govern them. The burden of taxation should be equally distributed, all property bearing its just share. The issuing of stocks and bonds should be so regulated that when the investor seeks for proper security, he will find that the State has guarded him in his investment against the purchase of artificial values by way of watered stocks and bonds. Legislation on this subject need not be untried or experimental; in fact it doubtless would be wise to adopt in some measure the laws of older states if a precedent can there be found. It is in your power to materially aid owners of corporate property in Michigan in disposing of their securities if you will pass such laws as will protect the investor therein, by making the sale of the securities easier and at a lower rate of interest. All legislation of this character should commend itself to sound business discretion.

Under the laws that now exist manufacturing and other corporations are permitted to do business after having paid in 10 per cent of the authorized capital without the residue being subscribed for, and upon this payment of 10 per cent, and upon the strength of the authorized capital, and the fair standing of the men connected with the corporation, and possibly to some extent the fair prospects of the business, large credit has been obtained by the corporation, in some cases many times larger than the actual capital paid in. The practical workings of this law are unsatisfactory to creditors because in many instances the creditor after the corporation has failed to be successful has been found to be the largest investor in the venture, in order to protect the creditors of corporations of this character, I recommend that you increase the responsibility of the stockholder by making him individually liable for such debts as are incurred beyond the amount of capital actually paid in, at least up to the amount of the authorized capital of the corporation. In other words when a corporation obtains authority to do business with a certain amount of capital, that capital should exist in good faith for the security of the creditor.

In the case of banking corporations, much greater liability of the stockholders exists under the law with very satisfactory results to the creditors of the banks and to the people generally. In this connection it would be well to consider such supervision of corporations by a corporation commissioner, whose duty it shall be to ascertain what the exact available assets of a corporation are before it is permitted to enjoy corporate privileges and enter upon the business for which it is created.

Great care should be used in preventing corporate bodies from coming into existence on values that are artificial. The price for which its first issue of stock shall be sold might safely be fixed by law as an additional safeguard against deception. Accurate and detailed reports of the exact condition of the corporation and the value of its assets should be made at stated periods, and statements made by them in that behalf should be carefully examined and scrutinized by competent authority, and if it is found that, notwithstanding the value placed upon the assets of the corporation by itself, it is as a matter of fact insolvent, it should be prohibited from doing business. In short, I deem it as important that all corporations dealing with the public should be under the supervision of a competent State official as that railways and banks should be under the supervision of the proper officials. In some of the older states this plan has been carried out with great success and without expense to the state by the charge of such a reasonable inspection fee as is not burdensome to the parties paying it, and for which they receive full value by having a statement of their business and assets made by an expert.

Liability of Stockholders.

I am not unmindful that there are some legitimate advantages in organizing partnerships and other enterprises into corporations. The death or withdrawal of a partner sometimes compels the winding up of the affairs of a partnership. This and several other inconveniences are obviated by converting the partnership into a stock corporation.

While partnerships are often thus converted into corporations for legitimate purposes and with honest intentions, it is equally true that this opportunity afforded by the law is seized by the dishonest for the purpose of avoiding individual liabilities for debts contracted in the conduct of their business, and thus cheat their creditors out of their honest dues.

Many worthless corporations are organized, electing for its president a person of well known financial strength, thus giving to this institution a fictitious credit. When the affairs of the concern become involved and creditors seek to get their money, it is found that the aforesaid president has only a few dollars stock in the concern and therefore is only liable to the creditors for a small amount. The creditors are thus swindled by the use of the rich man's name.

There is an easy remedy for all this—the law should make a distinction between public and quasi-public corporations and those which are strictly private; the latter should, in my judgment, for convenience and distinction, be designated as joint stock companies and all holders of stock in such companies should be liable for the debts of the concern precisely the same as though they were partners.

All the honest advantages of a corporate existence can thus be obtained, while at the same time the public is protected from the swindling operations of those who organize a corporation for dishonest purposes.

I recommend that a law be passed, substantially embodying the views above indicated.

While we should not of necessity select the railway of the State to prove the great inequality of our present distribution of taxes and present burdens, yet I have the figures at hand with reference to these corporations because there has been a supervision of them by the public, and the facts have at least become partially known. I submit the following statement taken from the report of the railway commissioner for 1895, which I am sure will be of interest to you in determining what your duty to the people of the State may be with reference to the question of taxation. The figures are taken from page 56 of the railway commissioner's report for 1895:

The gross earnings of the companies from all sources were..... $29,307,909 93
Upon which there was collected a total tax of..... 670,529 00
And as I compute it the percentage of taxation on gross earnings is... .022878

I have made a comparative table of earnings, tax and per cent of taxation on earnings for the year, 1894, of the states given in the schedule below:

States.	Earnings.	Taxes.	Per cent.
Michigan .....	$29,537,475 71	$676,136 18	.0228
Massachusetts .....	39,472,767 60	3,500,162 18	.0886
Iowa .....	40,699,679 92	1,426,014 85	.035
Wisconsin .....	28,318,544 09	1,295,999 13	.0457
New York .....	105,478,688 57	7,365,336 77	.0698
Illinois .....	77,508,537 00	3,846,378 87	.0496
Minnesota .....	30,695,524 00	923,864 43	.03008
Missouri .....	35,256,249 93	1,034,918 19	.0293
Indiana .....	156,199,465 00	2,250,009 06	.0144
Ohio .....	60,140,831 56	2,073,777 45	.0344
Connecticut .....	32,444,313 38	733,538 58	.0226

Page 61 of the Commissioner's Report gives the following total tax for Michigan, under the present system of tax of gross earnings:

1890.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.
$812,999 63	$854,334 12	$893,762 01	$811,056 65	$676,136 18

Showing that railway companies in Michigan are paying taxes under the gross earnings system in exact proportion to the conditions of their business, thereby increasing the taxes on all assessable property during the period of decreased earnings.

A like inequality of taxation under our present system applies to telephone, telegraph and express companies. Concerning the latter I call your attention to the fact that while the earnings of these companies are very large the amount of assessable property either real or personal used in their business is very small compared with the earnings.

I submit also herewith a statement obtained from the reports of the Auditor General and of the Railway Commissioner showing the inequality of taxation of railway properties in this State. The items contained in the statement as obtained from the railway commissioner's office are taken from the report not yet published:

The total cost of railway property in the State of Michigan in the year 1895, according to the report of the railway commissioner (not yet in print) was $316,888,027.90. The railway companies paid during the year in specific taxes $741,408.77, or a fraction more than two and one-third mills on the dollar.

The total value of real and personal property in the State in the year 1895, as equalized by the boards of supervisors, was $818,086,160.00, and the taxes levied for the same year for State, local, and all other purposes (as shown below) amounted to $30,688,571.04, or a fraction less than two and one-half cents on the dollar.

The taxes were as follows:

State tax.....	$3,010,227 88
County taxes.....	2,791,086 00
School taxes.....	5,491,077 47
Township and city taxes.....	7,474,826 88
Liquor taxes.....	1,879,391 62

From this statement it will appear how unjustly and how unequally the public burdens have been distributed, and what applies to railways in this regard applies with equal force to large amounts of other property in the State. While you may not deem it advisable to dispense entirely with the present system of specific taxation of corporations, which I do not recommend, some steps must be taken by you in the interests of the people in at least adding to that system. From many sources comes the proposition to tax corporate property in the localities where it may be situated, and in the absence of any better method I commend it to your attention. However, after considerable investigation it appears to me that a wiser and better method would be to create a department of taxes and assessments, composed of a board to be appointed by the Governor, and which board should be composed in part of such officials as have the supervision of the corporations against whom taxes are to be assessed. This board to determine the exact value of all corporate property in the State not now taxed locally under the present law and to levy taxes thereon in the same proportion that private property is taxed. If the formation of such board can meet the requirements of law no difficulty should be experienced on the part of the State in compelling the payment of a just tax on the actual value of the property owned by such corporations within the State including the value of the franchise. I look upon the question of taxation in these times as the most vital one with which you have to deal and one with which we must deal justly if the people are to be satisfied with our work.

A careful investigation of the statement herein submitted to you will make it manifest that the people of the State when they have a just and proper system of taxation can be relieved of the burden of the expense of State government, and be burdened only with local taxes of their own creation.

And I especially recommend to you that in the settlement of the question of taxation you avoid levying taxes in such a manner that by increasing the prices of products or tolls to the consumer the burden of taxation will indirectly remain upon the people.

The Present Tax Law.

I am of the opinion that some radical changes should be made in the present tax law. The taxation of mortgages upon land must be considered double taxation. The owner of the real estate must in all cases pay the tax, not only upon the real estate, but upon the mortgage, for if he who loans the money is required to pay tax upon the mortgage which he holds, he will recuperate from the owner of the property either by requiring him to pay additional interest sufficient to cover the amount of the mortgage or by compelling him to execute a mortgage which contains a clause requiring him to pay the tax upon the mortgage direct. The effect of the present law is to prevent residents of the State from loaning money directly, and to avoid the payment of tax, frauds are permitted, and the mortgage is taken in the name of a non-resident against whom the collection of the tax cannot be enforced. It would be far better to permit the borrower to have the advantage of a lower rate of interest than to allow the lender to exact a higher rate upon the plea that a portion of the interest received must be used for the payment of the tax.

I am also of the opinion that a radical change should be made in the present law by which tax titles are acquired. While every facility should be afforded for the collection of taxes, yet it should not be possible for one individual to confiscate the property of another. Whatever rights are required by reason of the non-payment of taxes should be acquired by the State. Whatever penalties are added for the non-payment of tax should inure to the State. The present law which prohibits the recording of deeds of transfer without the payment of taxes due at the time the transfer is made has facilitated the collection of taxes. This law, however, should be amended so as to require the payment of all back taxes and not merely those that stand against the property for five years preceding the transfer.

I would also recommend the adoption of a general enabling act, if such can legally be done, by which all property in the State which has been sold for taxes either to the State or to the individual can be redeemed by the original owner, or by his heirs or assigns, at any time within five years from the passage of such an act upon the payment of the original tax and costs and 6 per cent interest to the date of redemption. In times like the present such an act would meet the approval of all broad-minded citizens and only a few who desire to reap large rewards from the misfortunes of their fellow citizens would raise a voice in its condemnation.

Taxes Upon Timber Lands.

The State has suffered great losses in the past by reason of the failure to collect taxes due upon timber lands. The principal object of the owners has been to strip the lands of valuable timber and refuse to pay taxes during the time the stripping process has gone on. When it is known that this evasion of the tax law has been and is now practiced to an alarming extent by many wealthy people, both residents and non-residents, something should be done at once to prevent it. To this end I would recommend the passage of a law prohibiting the cutting and removal of timber from lands upon which taxes are due and unpaid. Such an act could be enforced by delegating special authority to trespass agents or others acting under the control of the State Land Commissioner.

State Institutions.

The educational, charitable, reformatory and penal institutions of the State should all command your earnest attention, and be subjected to such inspection as will enable you to provide intelligently for their needs. Economy in their management should always be practiced, but the necessity for reducing the cost of maintenance, if possible, was never more keenly felt than at the present time. The number of officers and employes on the pay rolls should not exceed actual need for safe and efficient service, and high or extravagant salaries ought in no case to be paid. False economy and retrenchment generally result in loss and poor service, and therefore should be avoided. In my judgment some reforms in the matter of buying supplies for the institutions might save to the State many thousands of dollars annually, but until such time as I shall be able to investigate the subject more fully, recommendation in this matter will be deferred. In making appropriations for current and other expenses of the institutions it is hoped the legislature will not be less mindful of the conditions that render appropriations necessary than of the strain that every additional dollar appropriated puts on the resources of the tax payer.

I am very strongly of the opinion that supplies for the various institutions should be bought of Michigan producers. Considerable sums of money are annually expended for beef and other supplies that come to our institutions from other states, while the farmers of our own State, who are taxed for the support of the institutions, are compelled to go away from home to find a market for their cattle and produce. I am sure you will agree with me that this is wrong, and if legislation is necessary to prevent it, you may be depended on to supply it.

The University.

Permit me to direct your special attention to the University. This great institution should under no circumstances be crippled. Its reputation as one of the great American universities should be sustained. It has been endowed by the people and has been maintained by them with a spirit of pride and often at a great sacrifice. Its teachers should be equal to any in the world and they should be men of independent thought, ready and willing to meet all great questions of modern civilization and advancement with an intelligent and enlightened public spirit. They should be qualified to aid in the preparation of wise measures of government and be willing at all times to give counsel upon political, social and economic questions. They should be so highly respected and so well compensated that it would not be profitable, as soon as they become efficient to be called away to give instruction to some great institutions which have been endowed by monopolists, who have acquired tens of millions of dollars at the expense of tens of thousands of their fellow men.

While it may not be possible at this time to greatly extend your support to this great institution, let no step be taken by you looking to its humiliation.

The Lobbyist.

I cannot refrain from expressing my views upon the subject of the professional lobbyist. At every session of the legislature just measures are killed by the enemies of good government and equal rights and the means used to compass their death are the paid lobbyists who infest our halls. If the members of the legislature are not intelligent enough to give independent thought and action to great public measures without the aid of those who wine and dine and cajole and flatter and bribe, at least some steps should be taken to modify the nuisance.

I do not propose to formulate rules for the government and control of those whose business it is to obstruct legislation. All attorneys who practice before courts and juries must be admitted as members of the bar and are required to pay certain fees and observe certain rules. If the lobbyist, like the poor, must be always with us to aid in thinking and assist us in acting and furnishing us food and drink, there should be some method of enrollment and a fee demanded as a condition precedent to the right to practice before the people's legislative jury.

It has come to my knowledge that some of these professionals have secured large retainers from individuals and corporations who are interested in obstructing honest legislation, and I trust a roll will be made of all such in order that their particular purpose may be clearly known and understood.

It unfortunately happens that in the past at least a few of the members of both houses have occupied the dual capacity of legislators and lobbyists, being paid by the people a small salary to serve in the former capacity and being hired by the people's enemies at high salaries to serve in the other capacity. It has not been necessary for these to be enrolled as their real employers are generally discovered early in the session of the legislature. I trust that there are no such public servants in the present legislature and that such evil work will not be felt or recognized.

Public Franchises.

The question of granting public franchises by the State and by municipal authorities, and the conditions under which they should be granted and operated is one of the greatest problems with which we have to deal. A public franchise, when it has passed beyond State or municipal control, may become a power greater than the sovereign or municipal power. It may become an engine of oppression and corruption. The moment a franchise is granted the whole people surrender to a few of their number the right to exercise a public function, and the question which should be considered is what proportion of that right should be reserved to the people themselves in the way of regulation and control.

In order to suggest a remedy for an evil or abuse it is first necessary to know what the evil is. To cure a disease the physician must be able to call it by name. What are the evils which have grown up under the present system of public franchises in this State and in all the other states of the union? A few of them only need be mentioned.

Combinations and consolidations by franchise owners in cities are going on all over the United States. These combinations and consolidations are for the purpose of keeping up tolls. The amount of wealth that is being accumulated in the hands of a few by these favored holders of special privileges is appalling. These tolls are indirect taxes, and to the extent that the right to regulate the tolls is abandoned by the sovereign or the local power to the franchise owner, to that extent the right to levy taxes is given away. The State or the municipality appoints an agent for a period of thirty years, more than the life of a generation, and before the term has half expired the agent becomes the master and the master becomes the slave.

Permit me to give an example of the abandonment of such power: A license is given to a company of three men to operate a street railway in a city of 60,000 people and they are permitted to charge five cents per passenger for a period of thirty years. At the time the license was granted the cost of carrying a passenger was four cents and the profit was therefore but 20 per cent upon the money actually invested. In ten years the population has increased to 120,000 and the cost of carrying the passenger is three cents and the profit is 40 per cent. Rather more than the profit of most merchants and manufacturers and farmers. If the original grant of the license, for that is all the franchise is, had reserved the right to regulate fares, and the municipality had been able to keep the profit down to 20 per cent, even the most radical advocate of vested rights could not complain that the corporation was being oppressed.

It should be very clear then that the right to regulate fares should always be reserved. But the reservation of this right is not all that is necessary. Permit me to give another illustration. The amount actually invested in a plant is one million dollars. After the road is completed it is mortgaged and bonded for two million. This could only be done by executing a mortgage upon the license itself. In other words the three men who formed the company and their associates advanced a million dollars and immediately thereafter placed a mortgage upon the industry and earnings of every inhabitant of the city for thirty years to come to the amount of two millions, and then when the question of regulating the fares is brought up the municipal authorities are met with the bland statement that the original owners have transferred their vested rights to innocent purchasers and in order to pay the bonus of a million dollars, and the interest upon it for thirty years, the company cannot live if the fare is reduced.

This system of indirect taxation is going on in every city in the United States, and hundreds of millions of dollars of fictitious values, which must represent some form of human labor, have been created 'or a few by the simple stroke of the pen, and in order to pay these immense sums tribute is laid upon every man, woman and child in the country. It simply means that these hundreds of millions of dollars are to be taken from the ordinary channels of legitimate trade to the injury of every mercantile and manufacturing and farming industry in the land, for no one interest can suffer without a corresponding injury to all. Is it not strange that in the presence of this insidious, but constant process of concentration, learned financiers, wise statesmen and profound political scholars wonder why the few become rich and the many become poor?

In order to prevent such accumulations a law should be passed which will prevent the execution of a mortgage upon the license. I would suggest the following amendments to the laws permitting the granting of franchises to public corporations such as street cars, electric light, telephone and gas companies.

1. Reserve the right to fix rates of tolls or charges.
2. Let the construction of the plant of every such corporation be under the supervision of the municipality, so that the actual cost shall be known.
3. Provide that no mortgage shall be executed and no bonds issued to a greater amount than one-half of the actual cost of the plant.
4. Require the corporation each year to file a sworn statement of its receipts and expenditures, certified by a public accountant who shall have access to its books.
5. Provide that there shall be no consolidation of one company with another and that no individual stockholder of one company shall own, either directly or indirectly, any stock in another company operating in the same city.
6. Provide that no franchise or license now existing or to be granted in the future shall be renewed or extended beyond the terms of the original grant during the life of the original grant.
7. Provide that no franchise of the character above enumerated shall be granted by any municipal authority without being submitted to a vote of the people.

I appreciate the fact that the passage of such a law, by which the people can be protected from extortion and fraud, will be opposed by every friend of special privileges, not only in this State, but that they will be reinforced by agents from other states who represent like interests. I cannot emphasize in too great a degree the necessity for some action in the line here indicated. Unless some such course is pursued it will be necessary to provide for State or municipal ownership of street car lines, telephones and other means of transportation and transmission, and I believe that such a plan should only be adopted as a last resort; for in my opinion it would be a blow struck at individual enterprise and exertion, and when these are lost the virility of a nation will be destroyed.

In this connection I desire to call attention to the question of fraud and corruption in securing public franchises and in the awarding of public contracts. It has always been a principle of law that fraud vitiates all contracts, and yet it has been held that the right to operate a public franchise is such a divine right that fraud cannot affect it. This matter has been often referred to in connection with the case of Jake Sharp and the Broadway street car franchise. Briber and bribed were sent to prison, but the fruit of their corruption was held by the courts to be too sacred to be touched. Before the courts of Michigan give their sanction to such a code of morals I would suggest that a law be passed making all public contracts, like private contracts, absolutely void for fraud or corruption. The manner of raising the question of fraud and the time within which and by whom it can be taken advantage of must be wisely considered by you.

Telephones.

Great interest within the past year has been manifested in the construction of telephone plants. Previous to that time the Bell Company has had the absolute monopoly. The rates charged have been extortionate. It has been argued by some that the telephone business is a natural monopoly. There is no such thing as a natural monopoly in telephone any more than in railroad or telegraph service. In addition to what I have already said under the head of public franchises I make the following suggestions as to telephones:

1. The law should permit the fixing of telephone rates by the local authorities in each municipality or town.

2. All companies should be required to charge the same price for the same service and no one should be permitted to give free service upon any consideration. A company which for years has charged double rates could for a number of years give free service, and the result might be to wreck a younger company, destroy capital and enterprise and leave the community in the hands of the old monopoly.

3. All telephone companies in a city should be compelled to exchange telephone service, upon terms to be fixed by the municipal authorities. The present law contains a provision looking to that end, but I am satisfied that it is too indefinite to be made available.

4. The law against consolidation of telephone companies should be made so positive and emphatic and contain such penalties and forfeitures that it would be impossible to evade it.

It has come to my knowledge that certain railroad corporations of this State have made contracts with the Bell Telephone Company by which, for certain reduction of rates and mutual concessions, an agreement has been made whereby the railroad company has agreed to prohibit opposition telephone companies from placing telephones in the stations and offices of said railroads. While such a contract is of course absolutely void, not only as against public policy, but as against the present telephone law, which provides against discriminations, yet it will avoid litigation if you pass an act which will forever prevent the execution or carrying out of such contracts. For two public servants to combine to defraud their master, the people, cannot be for one moment tolerated.

Prisons.

The treatment of criminals is one of the vexed questions of the age. Criminals are of two classes, corrigible and incorrigible. These should be kept separate in all jails, prisons and reformatory institutions. The original purpose of the establishment of the prison at Ionia was to provide a place for those who were not deemed to be hardened criminals. I fear that this purpose has not always been kept in view. I recommend that some discretion be lodged in the prison boards for transferring from Ionia prison those who have been found to be incorrigible, and also for transferring from prisons to Ionia such inmates as may be deemed to be corrigible. There can be no greater nursery for crime than a prison which permits the association of the vicious with those who are merely unfortunate.

The care of criminals is another question which becomes every year a subject for more serious and thoughtful consideration. The employment of machinery and the manufacture of articles which compete with the products of our great industries is in my opinion fundamentally and radically wrong. Hundreds of great prisons in the United States have become immense manufacturing establishments. Will it not be proper to make an effort to secure a change from the present system? I cannot outline at length a plan for such change, but would respectfully offer a few suggestions as a basis for legislation.

Would it not be well to investigate the question of utilizing and enlarging the present system of prison farms to the greatest possible extent for the production of such articles of food as may be necessary to feed prisoners? Beyond this it might be well to inaugurate the system of raising such vegetables as beets for the manufacture of beet sugar or other food plants which will not come into competition with the farming interests of the State. Before embarking upon the general system in this direction, however, I would recommend the adoption of such a system in connection with but one of the prisons of the State in order to test its practical workings. If hand labor only were employed both upon the farms and within the walls, it seems to me that the prisoners could be kept at work and could produce enough for their own support without creating a surplus and thus crowding the market with prison made goods.

The sale of prison made goods in competition with the products of free labor has a tendency to reduce prices for such goods and hence reduce wages. The mingling of prison made goods with others enables those handling the same to cut the prices below a fair profit, and in order to obviate this I am of the opinion that all prison made goods should be labeled and no label should be removed until the final purchase from the retailer. Such a law is in force in the state of New York, and I have been informed with good results.

In order to make prison farms secure, temporary stockades might be erected, but they should be replaced by permanent stone or brick walls which can be built by the convicts, thus utilizing their labor to the fullest extent, even to the manufacture of the brick themselves. No argument is necessary to emphasize the necessity of work for prisoners, both as an aid to their physical and moral training. At the present time there is a large number of convicts lying idle in two of the Michigan prisons.

Insurance.

Another matter that may well deserve your attention is that of fire insurance as conducted in this State. It is well known that by a combination of nearly all stock companies doing business in Michigan the State is divided into five districts; in each district is a supervisor who fixes absolutely the rates of insurance for all risks in his district. When an application is made to any of these companies for insurance the rate must first be sent to and approved by the supervisor of the district in which the risk is located for its approval by the company. All insurance must go through this agent of the combination. No more open evidence exists of a trust in this State than is to be found in this common necessity to our people.

It is also stated upon authority that rates of insurance in Michigan are higher on like hazards than in many of the eastern states. In several instances "non-board companies" have entered the field offering lower and profitable rates of insurance, but wherever such offers have been made, the common weapons of monopolies and trusts have been drawn and agents of the "board companies" have been authorized to meet such rates until the "non-board companies" have been driven from the field or have been forced to enter the combination when rates have again been raised to the high level. By these methods rates of insurance no longer become a matter of contract between the insurer and the insured, but an assessment without voice and without escape on the part of the person applying for insurance.

I believe you can find some way by which the field of insurance may be open to fair competition and without injustice being done to the companies. It is also suggested that the form of policy in use and authorized by the statutes of this State be examined with a view to making the same more liberal for the insured.

Coal and Other State Resources.

I find that but few of the State institutions are supplied with Michigan coal. As the State is interested in the development of these mines I would suggest the propriety of the more extended use of this fuel by these institutions, all things being equal.

All of the elements required for making Michigan one of the foremost manufacturing states of the world are present in the State on every hand, inexpensive transport inclusive. Coal is plentiful; and water power, without naming the force reserved in the rapids of the Sault Ste. Marie river, is unsurpassed. The vast resources of Michigan may be best illustrated by citing the fact that less than fifty years ago there were but three millionaires in the United States and by contrasting this with the more startling fact that Michigan mines have been making at least one millionaire a year for the cities of the east besides sustaining in large part as great a fleet for other states as that passing through the Suez Canal. This compared with what Michigan has received as her share is as the bounty of nature to the crust of charity. You are here to legislate for Michigan, and I desire to freely express the opinion that were these conditions mastered there would be much less need for the maintenance of charitable institutions by the State, and much less valid complaint of excessive taxation.

Good Roads.

The success of the agitation for good roads depends entirely upon a more equitable system of taxation. It is plainly apparent that one class of our citizens, the farmers, is bearing a greater share of the taxation of the State proportioned to values than another class, the organizations receiving corporate privileges from the State government. So long as this inequality exists just so long will the farming communities have manifestly just cause to oppose appropriations from which at the best they can draw no more benefit than to the rest of the people of the State, and from which, as a matter of fact, they draw less. Good wagon roads are a direct benefit to villages and cities and to transportation companies. Each should pay a proportionate share of such benefit. Under the prevailing method of taxation whatever of benefit is derived by producers is in brief time absorbed by the classes privileged by the legislature to levy indirect taxation in the form of rates of toll; largely those levied for transportation. There is no kind or class of taxes levied in the State of Michigan from which the incorporated bodies do not derive greater benefit than do the unincorporated and it is because they pay less for such benefits.

Incorporated bodies walk into the capitol of this State and almost openly pay for the privilege of escaping taxation in whole or in part. While there is escape in this way for special interests there is no escape for the ordinary or small tax payer, as there can be no property omitted from the tax roll; as there can be no burden thrown off in whole or in part by any person or corporation, that is not shifted to the shoulders of his neighbor. It is false economy that in the end works as disastrously for those who are for the time being relieved as for the overburdened.

There is absolutely no question as to the necessity of good roads for Michigan; but the State, rendered poor by unequal direct taxation and exorbitant indirect taxation, cannot afford at the present time to enter into the great work of constructing public roads at an outlay that will assure substantial highways which will endure for some time to come. The State government must first satisfy the people with a measure of equal taxation before the question of good roads can be entered upon; indeed before any measure involving an appropriation of public money is seriously approached. We have before us the lesson of the spectacle of the administration immediately preceding the present, consciously or unconsciously in aid of those who successfully shift taxation from their own to the shoulders of others, cutting away from the appropriation for the chief educational institution of the State. And this in obedience to the wishes of the largest body of taxpayers in the State who in their distress, and perhaps aware of the possible hopelessness of enforcing equal taxation were willing to sacrifice along the lines of education to retain the proper support of the home.

I would therefore urge upon the legislature, if the institutions of the State are to be maintained at all; if the proper work of the State is not to be abandoned; if all classes of citizens are to be treated alike before the law, that the question of equal taxation be seriously taken up and treated with impartiality.

Certain School Districts.

Since the repeal of the law existing prior to 1893 it has become impossible for some of the school districts in northern Michigan to fill the required number of schooling months and meet the expenses. They are situated in former lumbering townships; but the pine being taken off, payment of taxes on stump lands is refused. No relief is anticipated from delinquent taxes. It is suggested by officers of school districts that section 52 of act 206, laws of 1893, be amended so as to authorize township treasurers to retain out of moneys collected for the townships the whole amount of school taxes voted by the school districts. It is possible that some form of relief is needed and should be extended and I commend the subject to your attention.

Arbitration.

In the experience of the State of Michigan, if not in that of the United States, it is found that the military arm is called into requisition to suppress riots, chiefly on account of disagreements between corporations and their employes. Recourse to the military should be the final extreme resort. It is the duty of corporations to live at peace with their neighbors. And employes have a like duty to perform. Neither has any rights superior to the other in the eyes of the people. It is the duty of the State to preserve the peace and defend the rights of all. But it is also the duty of the State to prevent that which tends to disturb the peace or which infringes such rights and to that end laws have been passed and courts have been instituted. To further promote that end, I would recommend that no body of men be allowed the privilege of incorporation without their free consent, expressed in the articles of incorporation, as in part consideration for such privilege, that all disputes found impossible of adjustment between employer and employe, shall be referred to arbitrators, in accordance with the latest platform declaration of the Republicans of Michigan, that of the State convention for 1896, held at Grand Rapids.

Statistics Relating to Corporations.

The value of statistics to the State relating to corporations is incalculable. But they are valueless if they do not extend far enough to afford the legislature absolutely safe material from which to gather the correct deductions upon which the regulation of corporations is based.

The day of absolute reliance upon competition, especially between transportation lines, is passed and the day of the trust and the combine is here and the legislature must stand between the rights of the people of the State and the encroachments of the trusts and combines. To hide successfully is to swindle successfully. The people are entitled to all of the facts in relation to the creations of their representatives and all of the facts relating thereto should be gathered by the State and placed in the hands of each and every elector of the State free of technicalities. Information is education and private publications like private schools have private purposes. If it is the duty of the State to educate children it is likewise the duty of the State to inform the people. If, for an example of the importance of such statistics, it is required to know today the earnings capacity of any given railroad in Michigan upon which to base a maximum rate of fare it cannot be obtained from the public reports of the State, surprising as it is, because the number of passengers other than employes, hauled on passes is not shown in such reports. Yet passes are being regularly written by railroad attorneys for United States senators, United States representatives, and for other public servants whose good will is valuable to the roads. Certain classes of shippers, as also certain classes of so-called influential people, inclusive of certain newspaper publishers, obtain passes. So, too, the public statistics do not show the amount of money expended by railroads for maintenance of lobbyists at this capitol.

Actual earnings of roads do not show their earnings capacity by any means; and passes and the money maintenance of lobbyists are not all the lacking figures of the problem, the solution of which would show conclusively that bad management growing out of the exploitation of watered stocks and bonds, is ruining the railroads and checking the development of the earnings capacity of the State of Michigan. Actual value of roads and rolling stock and actual cost of operation are not clearly known and set forth.

As for freight rates they are at the option of the companies either to raise to exorbitant figures for occasions of speculation in the stock market or to reduce to figures intended to ruin a competitor or favor the monopolistic designs of a shipper, and the ordinary statistician must fail in following the changes.

Coercion of Electors.

As a guard against coercion of voters; a provision for the safeguard of the ballot; an additional assurance of the independence of the voter and the purity of elections, I would recommend that a penalty be provided by an act of the legislature severe enough to prevent corporations of a public character exerting undue influence in elections.

Fish Propagation.

The importance of the work of the fish commissioners cannot be over-estimated. The introduction of brook trout into the streams of the lower peninsula, where none were found before, demonstrates the possibilities of fish culture.

The labors of the commission have been directed to the question of the productiveness of our great commercial fisheries. The great lakes have ever been great storehouses from which have been drawn annually an important revenue to the State, and have produced a substantial portion of our food supply.

Our people have never appreciated the importance of these fisheries. Under proper regulations, and with little care and attention, a given area of water may produce as great a quantity of food as an equal area of land.

The food upon which young fish live and thrive is ever present and ready for their wants. It is there without man's intervention or aid. With proper methods instituted as to the planting of fish and the control of the fisheries, the waters of the great lakes lying within our borders can be made a source of great revenue, and any investment made in stocking these waters with young fish will return a thousand fold increase.

The indifference hitherto manifested regarding these fisheries has been because of lack of knowledge of what might be derived from them with an exercise of proper care. The State should, each year, place in these waters the greatest number of young fish they can possibly hatch, and to this end additional hatcheries should be established to carry on this work whenever required, and at as early a date as possible.

The commercial fisheries have been subject to abuses for years by the methods of fishing. The fishermen by long use have come to look upon the fisheries of the State as their own personal property, from which they may take each year, without regard for the future, all fish that come to their nets. As the larger fish begin to diminish in numbers the meshes of the nets were found to be too large, and profits began to decline. Then began gradual contraction of the meshes of the nets, until today more than one-third of the catch of white fish in the great lakes is of ten inches and under in length, and of salmon trout weighing less than two pounds, this length and size being the maximum for number two fish.

Large quantities of fish are taken which are graded as standard No. 3 white fish, of which the maximum requirement is three-quarters of a pound, and standard No. 2 trout, of two pounds. The havoc thus created can well be imagined, and the fishermen, themselves, admit, that unless vigorous steps are taken to prevent this wicked waste, a speedy termination must come to the fisheries. Thousands of pounds of commercial fish are taken from the lakes, each year, that have never arrived at a spawning age.

The State has a coast line of about two thousand miles upon the great lake system and the statistics show that the nets used for fishing, placed end to end, would measure 3,036 statute miles. The fish are not protected by laws such as have been passed for the protection of the birds of flight, the quadrupeds, like the deer, or the game fish, whose seasons of reproducing have been surrounded by the most ample safeguards. The fish of the great lake are pursued by the fishermen practically through the entire year.

The result is the destruction of the adult fish for spawning, the taking of millions of young fish, that have been spawned naturally, and of those artificially propagated. It can be readily seen that there must be but one result from this great inroad on the supply and that the efforts that the State is making to maintain the fisheries is rendered useless.

The first and substantial benefits derived from our fisheries are gathered by the fishermen themselves. Whatever benefits the fishermen may enjoy from the prosecution of their industry, they enjoy as a privilege and not as a right. The fisheries belong to the people, and it is their right that they should be maintained, not only for the present, but for the future. The State has appropriated freely of its means to establish hatcheries and render the fisheries fruitful.

The fishermen have been the immediate beneficiaries of the bounty of the State; and in many instances non-residents, while they have enjoyed the benefits, have shared none of the responsibilities in the way of taxation.

The product of the commercial fisheries, even in their depleted condition, amounts annually to more than a million dollars, at the lowest wholesale price of not more than three cents per pound.

With the passage of just laws protecting the fisheries, preventing the capture of young and immature fish, and protecting the spawning fish upon their beds, and their stringent enforcement, the result in the next five years would be an increase in the value of the product of, at least, one-third, and if continued for ten years would treble or quadruple this amount. As a business proposition solely, this matter should appeal with the greatest force to the legislature.

The dominion of Canada, which has by far the greatest extent of territory opposed to our own upon the great lakes, several years ago adopted regulations governing her fisheries, and their adoption and enforcement have resulted to their advantage.

They have imposed a license on the boats and nets of the commercial fisherman; they have made regulations to control the number and length of nets that each individual fisherman may have; they have made restrictions as to the setting of nets at certain distances from the shores and in channels, and they fixed the month of November as a close season to allow the fish a free opportunity to spawn.

It must appeal to the common understanding that if we are to preserve our fisheries, immediate steps must be taken to secure proper regulation and enforcement.

I therefore recommend that the legislature, at its coming session, pass such laws as may be needed to increase the productiveness of the fisheries and maintain their benefits for future generations. An act should be passed enlarging the meshes of the nets and imposing a severe penalty for the taking of small fish; a close season should be made to protect the spawning fish, and a license to be laid on the boats and nets similar to the one now in force in Canada, and income derived from such licenses must not only maintain the fish commission in their work of artificial propagation as at present established, and its enlargement in the future to its fullest possibilities, but at the same time provide a substantial revenue for the State.

Banking Department.

While I believe that most of our State banks are well managed and in good condition, still the lessons taught by the failures during the past two years should not be unheeded or forgotten and I feel that I cannot too strongly urge attention to this subject.

From the report of the commissioner on banking, it appears that there are now upwards of 170 State banks and three trust companies in existence in our State with a liability to depositors of $95,000,000.

This is three times the number shown by the first annual report and over twice the liability to depositors.

The severe strain of the past three years has increased the burden and responsibilities of those charged with the administration of banks and has developed some weak points in our banking laws. During the period mentioned a number of banks have failed. In the city of Lansing alone three State banks failed, swallowing up nearly $1,000,000 of depositors' money. The cause of these, and in fact nearly all bank failures, may be distinctly traced to the excessive loans made to the officers of those banks and to the various business concerns in which these officers were interested. It is hardly necessary to add that most of these loans were made in violation of the law or by evading it.

It seems to be a fact that too few bank directors understand banking and most of them find it easier, at least when times are good, to leave the management of the bank with its cashier or some other one officer. Something certainly should be done that will make bank directors more familiar with the affairs of the bank and thus prevent mismanagement for which they are morally, and should be legally, responsible.

The quarterly reports, which are now required to be made to the commissioner, should be verified by the oath of all those who are required to sign the report and the oath should contain a statement that they have personally examined the books and assets of the bank and that from such examination they personally know that the statement signed by them is true in substance and in fact.

It should be made obligatory upon each bank to require from its cashier or treasurer such a bond as shall be approved by the banking commissioner.

Whenever a cashier or treasurer shall, without authority shown upon the records of the bank, discount or cash any negotiable paper or security of any kind, it should be regarded and treated as an unlawful use of the money in the bank and appropriately punished.

A full and complete record of the actions of the board of directors relative to loans and discounts should be kept, which record should be signed by all those present.

There is altogether too much red tape in the manner of getting a receiver under the present law. The commissioner has not sufficient power to enforce the law and protect the depositors. Whenever he finds a bank insolvent or violating the law, he must report to the Attorney General and the latter may, if he feels so disposed, apply to the courts to appoint a receiver.

The banking commissioner should be given power to close a bank at once whenever it is insolvent. And in general, I believe he should be given the same power over the State banks that is given the controller of the currency over the national banks.

Every safeguard possible should be placed around the banking business of our State. Without banks, about whose safety there can be no question, we cannot carry on business.

Each mercantile and manufacturing concern should feel that its best and safest friend is the bank in which it makes its deposits and from which it must necessarily be a constant borrower.

In this country where sudden fortunes are often made by some fortunate speculative enterprise, the temptation to make unsafe and illegitimate investments with depositors' money is often too great to be overcome.

Severe punishment should be meted out to those officers and managers of banks who are thus led to betray their trusts.

Business prosperity depends upon sound banking. Without it we must always expect to pay a higher rate of interest than our business will warrant.

What I have said relative to banks applies with equal force to building and loan associations.

The cost of maintaining the banking department with such additional power may be somewhat increased, but, whatever it is, it should be paid by the banks so that the burden of ascertaining whether or not they have safe places in which to deposit their money shall not fall upon the people.

Savings banks, pure and simple, with no capital stock—the depositors standing in the relation of shareholders to the extent of their deposits, and profit-sharers pro rata—are not obliged to earn money for shareholders and depositors too. They are enabled to make very conservative investments. As there is no incentive to make great profits such institutions are obviously in the interest of depositors, to whom a reasonable dividend can be paid. I recommend that our general banking laws be amended to admit of such societies for savings in Michigan.

Inheritance and Income Taxes.

I am in favor of an inheritance tax and an income tax. I earnestly hope you may see your way clear to provide for them.

A Point in State Finances.

Without reflecting upon any previous administration I feel it my duty, here, to call your attention, and that of the people of the State of Michigan, to a deficiency which exists, and which I am informed has existed for some time, in the State finances. This has necessitated the borrowing of considerable sums of money as high sometimes as half a million dollars without authority of law, in order to bridge over emergencies, when there was no funds in the State treasury. This condition should not be continued but should be met openly and manfully and provided for in an intelligent and businesslike manner. It is not so necessary to ascertain where the responsibility for this deficiency exists, as it is to provide for the existing condition without subterfuge.

Short Legislative Sessions.

I would respectfully call your attention to the provision of the constitution requiring sessions of the legislature to be held biennially.

This and the granting of special municipal charters are the two great obstacles in the way of short sessions of the legislature.

I recommend that an amendment to the constitution requiring annual sessions of the legislature of not over sixty days each to be submitted to the people. I also suggest the advisability of your honorable body taking a recess for one year after a session of sixty days.

I further recommend that general incorporation laws for all cities and villages be adopted.

Child Labor.

More stringent laws should be passed to prevent the employment of children in many lines of work. Such employment is another of the results of the concentration of capital in trusts and monopolies, combination stores, consolidation of companies operating public franchises and the employment of prison labor. The result of such combinations and consolidations is to destroy competition and this necessitates the employment of children and women to do the work that ought to be performed by able-bodied men with families out of employment and to compel them to be a burden upon the public. The greed and avarice of those who thirst for wealth and power is so great that the weak and the helpless are forgotten and those who have felt interested enough in the uplifting of their fellow beings to consider these questions seriously must unite in combatting the evils to which I have referred. The people have no hope except in their representatives in legislatures and in congress and I trust you will do your whole duty or at least inaugurate a system of reform which will redound to your credit and honor.

Yours respectfully,

HAZEN S. PINGREE,

Governor.

Very respectfully,

LEWIS M. MILLER, .

Clerk of the House of Representatives.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 5. By Mr. Campbell: Declaration of principles of the Michigan State Association of Farmers' Clubs.

On motion of Mr. Campbell,

The declaration was ordered spread upon the Journal.

The following is the declaration of principles:

To the Honorable Legislature of Michigan:

At the annual meeting of the State Association of Farmer's Clubs of Michigan held at Lansing, Dec. 7th and 8th, 1896.

The following report of the Committee on Legislation was adopted by the Association as a Declaration of Principles:

1. That all county officials be paid in full for their respective services by stated salaries fixed by the respective Boards of Supervisors; and that it be made a criminal offense for such officials to receive any fees, or other perquisites in addition to their salaries. Further, that the fees collected in county offices be re-adjusted on an equitable basis, and that hereafter all such fees be turned into the county treasury and become a part of the general fund.

2. That no new State institutions be established by the next Legislature, and that there be a general weeding out of the unprofitable State institutions already in existence, and of unbusiness-like methods of management wherever they exist.

3. That Michigan prisons should, in the aggregate, be made self-supporting.

4. That no more than the regular one-sixth mill tax be granted to the University for the coming two years.

5. That no change be made in our road laws whereby the maintenance of our roads shall be made more burdensome than at present, or that will dispossess the farming community of their management.

6. That a more economical and effective system for the collection of taxes upon non-resident land must be devised.

7. That our tax system be so amended as to secure a more equitable distribution of the burdens of taxation upon both personal property and real estate, and upon both corporate and private capital.

8. That we re-affirm the resolutions passed at our last annual meeting relative to the compilation of the laws of the State, which resolutions were as follows:

Resolved, That we commend the action of the last Legislature in ordering a recompilation of the general laws of the State, together with citations and notes of the decisions of the Supreme Court thereon, as a wise step taken in the interests of the ten thousand public officers who are expected to enforce and observe the laws in their official capacity, but who do not have the time and legal training necessary to enable them to search through and compare the contents of many volumes of laws and decisions;

Resolved, That we also commend the action of the Legislature in returning to the wise policy of the State in preparing, publishing and owning its own compilation of the general laws, in accordance with the express terms of the Constitution, as well calculated to ensure correctness in publication and saving of expense to the people;

Resolved, That we recommend that the next Legislature, after the close of its own work, order the new compilation published as speedily as possible and consistent with correctness of execution, and provide for offering for sale, at the very lowest price possible, a sufficient number of copies to supply every citizen who desires them, with the laws which he is expected to obey and the ignorance of which is no excuse for their violation.

President.

F. D. WELLS,
Secretary.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 10. By Mr. Prescott: Memorial of the Michigan Women's Christian Temperance Union relative to the abolishment of the liquor traffic.

Mr. Prescott moved that the memorial be read in full and spread at large on the Journal;

Pending which,

Mr. Barnard moved that the memorial be referred to the committee on Liquor Traffic;

Which motion did not prevail.

The question then recurring on the motion made by Mr. Prescott,

Mr. Westcott moved that the memorial be laid on the table;

Which motion did not prevail.

The motion of Mr. Prescott then prevailed, and the memorial was ordered spread on the Journal.

The following is the memorial:

To the Honorable, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Honorable Sir—The undersigned memorialists officially representing the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the State of Michigan, desire most respectfully to petition your Honorable Body to enact a statute during your present session completely prohibiting the traffic in alcoholic beverages in this State. The reason for our request may be briefly stated and we trust they will commend themselves to your conscientious convictions of duty. Prohibition is the only correct principle of legislation on this question, both in law and ethics. The business which we ask you to outlaw is essentially vicious in its nature and tendencies. It is incapable of being regulated either by license or tax, so as to be in harmony with the public good. Ample evidence to this effect can be cited from the public utterances of publicists and jurists of the highest repute and inasmuch as the State as truly as the individual is amenable to the law of God, we ask that you will exercise your prerogative as legislators, by placing our noble commonwealth in harmony with the high and irrevocable statutes which pronounce a "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him and maketh him drunken also."

We further submit, that to legislate the liquor trade in any form is a gross prostitution of political power. "Rulers should not be a terror to good works but to the evil."

Everywhere in society, the weak and defenseless are rendered more exposed to injury by the open saloon. These places are notoriously the crime breeders of the State. Why then should the State, in effect, go into partnership with them and grant them protection?

Furthermore, the commodities in which liquor vendors deal are neither useful nor safe. Every transaction wherein any valuable consideration is paid for in intoxicating drink is of the nature of a fraud. Alcohol used as a drink is incapable of rendering any real service, but always strikes in the direction of dishonorable death.

Again, we readily believe that apart from considerations of party politics and including the non-voting population, a vast majority of the citizens of the State desire complete legal suppression of the liquor traffic. It should be borne in mind that the best informed friends that the small majority of five thousand, five hundred and forty-five votes were only counted, not cast against the constitutional amendment on this question in 1887.

It may be objected that the policy of prohibition was once given a trial in Michigan for a number of years and finally, abandoned in 1875, because, of its inefficiency. It is a sufficient reply to this objection to call attention to the almost universally confessed failure to endorse the most salutary provisions of the regulation laws which have been substituted for prohibition. But, it seems to us much like a slander upon the fair fame of our noble State to even intimate a just law on any subject cannot be enforced with reasonable strictness. If the executive department of the government is faithful to its trust, there can be no insurmountable difficulty in this direction.

But it is claimed that this State through its several municipalities derives a large revenue from the present method of taxing the traffic which goes far towards lessening expenses for local internal improvements. Whoever urges this consideration as an argument against prohibition and in favor of a legalized liquor trade needs to be better informed on the fundamental principles of political economy. Moreover, we beg reverently to cite on this point another brief passage from the Divine Law. "Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood and establisheth a city by iniquity."

Finally, we record the solemn conviction that the best elements of our Christian civilization must soon unite in some effective way to utterly overthrow the liquor power in the State and Nation. And that you may find it consistent with your sense of duty to deal an effective blow upon the "gigantic crime of crimes" is and shall be the sincere prayer of your humble memorialists. The 8,000 women belonging to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the State of Michigan.

JANE M. KINNEY,

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Colman presented the following petition:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioner, Wm. R. Kendrick, respectfully represents that he is a citizen of the United States and a qualified elector of the county of Saginaw, State of Michigan, which said county constitutes the 10th judicial circuit of the said State of Michigan.

2d. Your petitioner further represents that at the election held in said circuit November 3, A. D. 1896, there were only two candidates upon the ballots to be voted for the office of circuit judge to fill vacancy, and that your petitioner was the candidate on the Republican ticket and Byron A. Snow was the candidate on the Democratic-People's-Union-Silver ticket.

3d. Your petitioner further represents that the county board of canvassers of said Saginaw county canvassed the votes of said judicial circuit and certified the same to the State board of canvassers as they were counted and returned by the several election boards of the voting precincts of said circuit, and that by the canvass as made and returned by said county board of canvassers, it appears that said Byron A. Snow received a majority of the votes cast for the said office of circuit judge to fill vacancy in said circuit and he was therefore declared elected to said office and the said State board of canvassers caused to be issued to him a certificate of election, but your petitioner believes that said Byron A. Snow was not legally elected to said office, but that your petitioner was, and that he therefore desires to contest the final determination of said State board of canvassers in the premises and avers that your petitioner will, if the votes lawfully cast in said circuit which are legally marked so as to express the voter's choice in the manner provided by law and legally counted, be shown to have been elected to said office and entitled to a certificate of election and that the said election of the said Byron A. Snow or his apparent election results in the fraudulent and illegal manner of conducting the elections and of counting the ballots and in permitting persons who are not electors to vote in the several townships and wards and voting precincts in said circuit hereinafter named.

4th. Your petitioner therefore charges upon information and belief that in the conduct of the election in many of the voting precincts in said circuit there was gross fraud and illegality, and a wilful disregard of the mandatory and directory laws enacted for governing elections and the conduct of the board of election inspectors, and that many votes were cast by persons who are not electors and by others who were not registered, and that many votes were counted for said Byron A. Snow wrongfully and illegally, and that many votes legally cast for your petitioner were not counted for him by said several boards of election inspectors, and that such fraud, illegality, and error in the conduct of said election and in permitting persons who are not electors, and who are not registered, occurred in the townships, wards, and polling precincts in said district hereinafter named, that is to say:

In the townships of Birch Run, Buena Vista, Brant, Chapin, Carrollton, Frankenmuth, Fremont, James, Jonesfield, Kochville, Lakefield, Richland, Saginaw, Spaulding, Thomastown, and Taymouth, and also in the wards of the city of Saginaw, to wit: in the first ward, the fourth ward, the eleventh ward, the fourteenth ward, and the fifteenth ward.

5th. Your petitioner charges upon information and belief that in each of said townships, wards, and voting precincts, many persons who voted at said election were assisted in the marking of their tickets by the members of the board of election inspectors and by other persons without said voters being first sworn that they could not read English or that because of physical disability they were unable to mark their tickets themselves, said voters being persons whose disability, if any existed, was not manifest to said election inspectors. And that in several townships, wards, and voting precincts, persons adverse to the interest and election of your petitioner were allowed to be and remain inside of the railing erected in said polling place during the greater portion of the day and to converse with the voters and influence them after they had secured their ballots and before the same were deposited in the ballot boxes, and that in each of the said several townships, wards, and voting precincts some of the members of the said boards of election inspectors instructed, and permitted others to instruct, a large number of voters how to mark their tickets without such assistance or instruction having been first requested by such voters, and that in many instances said members of said election board and other persons went into the booths with the electors and wrongfully and illegally influenced them in selecting their tickets and the persons for whom they voted, and that, in consequence thereof, a large number of voters in said several townships, wards, and polling precincts exposed their tickets to the view of others after they were marked, in violation of law.

6th. Your petitioner further represents that in said township of Birch Run, in addition to the other irregularities and illegal practices hereinbefore mentioned, that the said election board of said township neglected to prepare any ballot box within which to deposit the ballots, and when the ballots were received, after being marked by the voters, instead of being placed by said election board in a proper and legally prepared ballot box having a lock and key, and which could be securely closed and sealed, they were placed by said board in a common box which had been prepared and used for the shipment of bird-seed, and which had neither lock nor key, and the bottom and top to which was insecurely fastened on with small wire nails, and in no other manner, and said election board, with respect thereto, acted in entire disregard of the safeguards provided by law securing the ballots cast by the electors of said township.

7th. Your petitioner further represents that in each of said several townships, wards, and voting precincts, persons who were not members of said board of election inspectors were permitted to assist in the counting of the ballots, and that instead of each member of said boards counting and inspecting all of the tickets, they individually and severally counted and inspected only a part and parcel of the ballots cast, and in that way acted without check upon each other's inspection and count, and by reason thereof made many mistakes and omissions, and counted many votes for said Snow when the voter's choice was not expressed by marking his ticket in the manner the law provides and requires.

8th. Your petitioner further represents that, in addition to the illegal conduct and irregularities hereinbefore referred to respecting the election held in the township of Frankenmuth, that said election was held in their township hall which was partitioned off by solid walls into three rooms and that the larger room was divided by a railing extending from one side to the other; that within said larger room, but within the railing, and about two and one-half feet therefrom, were the booths, which were constructed with doors on each side thereof, one opening towards the railing and one on the opposite side; that the board of election inspectors and the ballot boxes were in one of said other rooms and the ballots were handed out through a small window about two feet in diameter and when marked were again returned through said window, and the ballots, if deposited in the ballot box, were not so deposited in the presence of the voters. And when said board of election inspectors counted and canvassed the ballots at the close of said election, said window was closed and the public entirely excluded from the presence of said board during the time of such counting and canvassing of said ballots. And that during the entire day there was posted upon the walls within the polling place a large placard with instructions thereon to the voters to vote the silver ticket. Your petitioner further represents that a like placard was posted up within and on the polling place in said several other townships, wards, and voting precincts.

Your petitioner further represents that in several of said townships, wards, and voting precincts the gate keeper appointed by said board to attend the gates in the railing erected through said polling places, in violation of law conversed with the voters as they passed in through said gates and urged them to vote said Democratic-People's-Union-Silver ticket.

9th. Your petitioner further represents that in several of said townships, wards, and voting precincts, and particularly in the township of Brant, the inspector of election designated by said board of election inspectors to distribute the tickets to the voters, several times during the day, and while said polls were open, and for a considerable period of time, gave the ballots to the challenger of the Democratic-People's-Union-Silver party, and absented himself from said polling place and said challenger was permitted by said boards of election inspectors to distribute the ballots to the voters.

10th. Your petitioner further represents that in many of said townships, wards, and voting precincts, and in each of them, a large number of persons were illegally registered upon the registration day next before said election, who were permitted to vote in said several townships, wards, and voting precincts at said election, and whose illegal registration was known to said election boards, and a large number of persons upon said registration day were registered by proxy, and from places of residence named by them which do not exist in fact, and such persons were also permitted to vote.

Your petitioner further represents that many persons were permitted to register in several townships, wards and voting precincts upon said election day and to vote at said election, without having been first sworn as the law provides they should be. Your petitioner further represents that in said several polling places in the townships, wards and voting precincts hereinbefore mentioned, and in close proximity to the booths therein, many persons were permitted to discuss and advocate openly and urge the voters there present to vote said Democratic-People's-Union-Silver ticket during the greater portion of said election day.

11th. Your petitioner further represents that in the several townships, wards and voting precincts of said district, many tickets were counted for the Democratic-People's-Union-Silver party, and consequently for said Byron A. Snow, which bore distinguishing marks, which should not have been counted for any candidate.

Your petitioner respectfully shows that according to the provisions of Sec. 5, Art. VIII, of the constitution of the State of Michigan, in consideration of the premises belonging and by right ought to be exercised by the legislature in joint convention, and therefore your petitioner being remedyless, except before your honorable body; therefore, in consideration of the premises, prays that an investigation of said matters be had and the correctness of said final determination of the said State board of canvassers be determined as to your honorable body may seem proper and just under the constitution and laws of this State, and that your petitioner may be declared elected circuit judge to fill the vacancy of the said 10th judicial circuit for the term expiring January 1, 1900, and your petitioner will ever pray.

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of Michigan:

We, the members of Capital Grange, No. 540, Patrons of Husbandry, are opposed to the repeal of the law providing for the collection of farm statistics.

This law affords the only annual official publication of the agricultural resources of the State, and it gives to producers and consumers as accurate crop reports as dealers can obtain. We believe its direct benefit along these lines is many times its cost and, therefore, desire that the law remain. By order of the Grange.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

The committee on Fisheries submitted the following report:

The committee on Fisheries, whose duty it is to inspect the office, the several hatcheries and stations of the State Board of Fish Commissioners, and the system of conducting the work of said Board, respectfully report:

That beginning with the 23d of January, in company with a similar committee from the House of Representatives, we visited the office, and all of the stations and the proposed site for a bass hatchery in Kent county.

The office was first inspected, and the books and records carefully looked over. A good system of bookkeeping is employed, and all the details of the work is recorded in a business-like manner. Great pains are taken to keep a complete and accurate record of all transactions of the Board, whether financial or historical.

The Detroit station was the second place visited. An extended description of this hatchery is unnecessary, it having been frequently described both in reports of committees and in the biennial report of the Board. Suffice it to say that this is one of the largest and best equipped hatcheries for whitefish and wall-eyed pike in the world, and like all the other stations of this Board, is a model of cleanliness, efficiency and economical management.

It has been reported by some commercial fishermen that the whitefish are hatched in this house in water so much warmer than the water into which they are put, that they are chilled and die. We are sure this is a mistaken idea, as any one will be convinced if they will investigate. The temperature of the water in which the fish are hatched and also of the water in the Detroit river are taken simultaneously several times during the hatching season and a record kept. This record shows that there is practically no difference. The tests show that the water in the hatchery is but a degree or two above the freezing point.

The carp hatchery at Glenwood was the next station visited. It is a small station for raising carp by allowing it to hatch in ponds naturally.

and when large enough to distribute them to applicants. The stream and ponds are owned by Mr. Worden Wells, who cares for the fish and superintends their distribution, and receives for the use of his property and for the time and labor he gives the work $500 per year.

The distribution of carp seems to be a necessity. It furnishes a very good food fish for waters not adapted to the better varieties, and is the means of supplying fish food to a large number who otherwise would have none at all. The arrangement with Mr. Wells provides for the propagation and distribution of carp in the most economical manner, and in our opinion should be continued and maintained.

The trout hatchery at Paris was next visited. It is unequalled as a trout hatching station, and is the pride of the State. It is beautifully located on the Cheney creek, but a few rods above the Muskegon river. The State owns 159 acres of land, which practically gives control of the Cheney creek and Little and Big Buckhorn creeks. The whole property is well cared for, economically managed, and with proper and adequate appropriations can be made to supply all the trout needed for distribution in the lower peninsula.

From Paris your committee went to Sault Ste. Marie, where the new hatchery for whitefish and the varieties of brook trout was carefully inspected. So far as your committee can learn, this is the only station on this continent where both whitefish and trout can be successfully propagated. It is delightfully located on an island in the Sault Rapids. The building is a fine one, built and equipped to its present state of completion at an exceedingly small cost to the State, considering the size, beauty and quality of the building and furnishings. It is but partially equipped and but three ponds have been installed. The Board will ask for the necessary appropriation to complete the equipment, and to construct the necessary ponds. The ponds can be built during the coming summer for a much smaller sum than at any future time, for the reason that the earth removed and to be removed by the government in the construction of the new ship canal and in grading the grounds can be had for the taking, if used during the coming season. This earth can now be had while it is close at hand and while the cost of removing it to the hatchery grounds will be merely nominal. If not used this summer, it will be disposed of by the government in such a way as to be entirely out of the reach of the Board, or so far away that the cost of putting it upon the grounds of the hatchery will be very great. Therefore, your committee recommends that provision for the completion of this hatchery and ground be made by the present legislature. When completed this hatchery will, in the opinion of your committee, be able to supply all the whitefish and trout needed for the waters of the upper peninsula.

The proposed site for a bass hatchery is located on Plumb creek, about four miles from the city of Grand Rapids, and near the present fair grounds of the Western Agricultural Society. The C. & W. M. Railroad passes directly upon the site, so that the railroad facilities for shipping cannot be excelled. The land needed (about five acres) with the control of the water of Plumb creek, can be purchased for $100 per acre. The fish commission have at their experimental station established the fact that bass can be successfully propagated in sufficient numbers for general distribution. The whole people of the State, and the farmer especially, will be benefited by the stocking of waters with this fish. It is valuable for food and unexcelled as a game fish. The opportunity to secure so favorable a site should not be lost, and your committee urgently recommend the appropriation of the sum needed to buy the land and complete the station.

The last place visited was Charlevoix. At this place the Fish Commission now has a small temporary hatchery for whitefish and lake trout. It is carried on in a small rented building and is used only as a relief station. The eyed eggs are brought to this hatchery at the proper time from the Detroit hatchery. Their hatching is completed and the fish put into the waters of Lake Michigan at different points. Thirty million of eggs can be brought from Detroit on one trip, while fifteen trips would be required to get that number of fish from Detroit to Lake Michigan. Whitefish hatch in the early months of spring, and if left in Detroit to be hatched, frequently come out in such large numbers at one time that it is impossible to transport them to Lake Michigan, but it is necessary to put them in waters nearest at hand. This relief station, although at present very small, has proved of great benefit in providing for an equitable distribution of the fish hatched.

A number of prominent citizens and fishermen of Charlevoix met the committee and strongly urged the establishment of a permanent hatchery at this place for whitefish and lake trout. At no other point on the chain of lakes are the conditions for securing lake trout eggs so favorable as at this place. Dr. George Crouter, a prominent citizen, spoke for the village, and said the fishing industry was their most important interest. The fishermen and the citizens believed in artificial propagation, and were sure that the benefits to the whole people and to Charlevoix particularly would be so great that he was authorized to offer a suitable site and a perpetual supply of free water, if the hatchery could be built here. The commissioners will make such recommendation as shall seem wise when all the circumstances have been considered, and your committee are prepared in advance to second and support the plan that may be suggested by that Board.

At several places on the route your committee were met by prominent commercial fishermen, all of whom were anxious to exploit their opinions as to the success of the work carried on by the Board of Fish Commissioners and their views as to the proper laws for the protection of commercial fish. Among those interviewed were C. W. Hambaugh, John R. McLeod, Joseph Gonderaw, Fred Kruger and Captain Joseph Ryerse, of St. Ignace; Messrs. Endriss, Ainsworth and others of Sault Ste. Marie; J. Geiken, Captains John and William O'Niel and others of Charlevoix. They stated that the work of planting whitefish as carried on by the Board was a success, and that the fish should be protected by requiring the use of a much larger mesh than is now required by law to be used in both pound and gill nets, and that the taking of immature whitefish, lake trout and pike perch should be stopped.

Bills to accomplish this purpose will be prepared, and your committee urgently recommend their passage. They also recommend the passage of a bill providing for a license to be paid by commercial fishermen for the privilege of using pound nets, gill nets and seines.

The commissioners will submit an estimate of the amount needed to carry forward the work entrusted to their care during the two years ending June 30, 1899, and your committee recommend that the amount asked for be appropriated. To decrease the sum asked by even a small amount would be unwise and will greatly cripple the Board in its efforts to do that which is wisest and best for the people of the State. The members of the Board serve without compensation; they give their time, their best thoughts and unstinted energies to this work and know what is needed. They are in no way personally interested, and their decision as to the amount needed should, in our opinion, be final.

JOHN L. PRESTON,
ALEXANDER MAITLAND,
J. K. FLOOD,

Committee on Fisheries.

SPECIAL REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MINING SCHOOL AND MINING INTERESTS.

The committee on Mining School and Mining Interests respectfully submits to the Senate the following report of its doings and the results of its investigations into the present condition and requirements of the Michigan Mining School at Houghton.

The committee visited and inspected the institution on the 27th and 28th days of January, 1897, and met and conferred with members of the board of control of the faculty.

The buildings occupied and used by the school were found in excellent condition and were well adapted to the ends contemplated by the act under which the school was organized, and to the extent to which their equipment has been carried are fully up to the highest standard.

The educational work of the school is carried on in two fine buildings known as "Science Hall" and "Engineering Hall," in addition to which are a stamp mill and a metallurgical furnace in which, during the summer season, is carried on the practical work of the reduction of ores and minerals, and also sheds and out-houses for storage purposes.

In 1893 the legislature provided for the construction of a new building now known as engineering hall and it was then the plan of the board of control to transfer from science hall to this new building the departments of mining engineering and mechanical engineering, leaving available space in the old building for the extension of the other departments of the school and for some additions thereto, and the estimates made at that time included the amounts necessary for the carrying out of this plan and for the completion of the equipment of both buildings and an appropriation was asked for, which would cover such estimates. At that time, however, the legislature appropriated an amount sufficient only for the construction of the building and the transfer of the equipment from the old building to the new, but did not provide for the additional equipment needed in either building, it being then understood as we are informed, that the legislature of 1895 would make such provision.

The legislature of 1895, however, refused an appropriation for this purpose, providing only for the current running expenses of the institution, and the result has been that the plans of the board as formulated in 1893 have not been completed, and the necessary equipment is still lacking.

It is but fair to the board of control to state that the appropriation for improvements and equipment now asked for is substantially what was asked for in 1893, as necessary to fairly equip the school for the accommodation of 150 students, and it has seemed to the committee on an investigation of the matter, that to prepare the institution for the work for which it is designed, the equipment asked for by the board, for which estimates have been submitted to the committee, is needed and ought to be provided for by the legislature.

The plans of the board contemplate the removal of the department of physics in the basement of science hall, which is now vacant and cannot be made available without the appropriation for its equipment and some necessary changes. This will leave room in the upper stories of the building for the extension of the chemical laboratories, which has become necessary by reason of the increase in the attendance at the school.

The growing importance of the use of electrical engineering in the operations of mining as well as in all other industries, renders the education of a mining engineer no longer complete without a thorough and practical knowledge of electricity and electrical appliances. A room for an electrical laboratory was provided for in engineering hall and some apparatus has been acquired by the school through donations from individuals, but the equipment is far from complete, and the importance from this branch of the work of the school calls for a provision by the legislature in the way of an appropriation, even more urgently now than when it was first asked for by the board in 1893.

The assay laboratory is now situated in a room in the basement of science hall. The work of this department, situated as it is, involves considerable risk to the building through danger from fire, and the contemplated removal of the physical laboratory requires the use of this room for that purpose, for which reasons it is the opinion of the committee that a suitable building should be constructed in which the assaying work can be carried on. Such a building can be provided with adequate ventilation, thus avoiding the intense heat from which the students now suffer in the present cramped quarters. The appropriation for this purpose was asked for in 1895 and was recommended by the committee of the House and Senate at that time, and this committee again recommends the same.

This institution has just entered its tenth, and, all things considered, its most successful year since its establishment. It has steadily grown in importance as a technical mining school, until today it ranks among the first institutions of its class in this or any other country.

By the establishment of an elective system of studies, its curriculum, though thorough, adapts itself to the mental bent or inclination of the student, thus saving him from devoting much time to certain classes of subjects for which he has neither inclination nor fitness. The avowed object is to prepare young men in the shortest time possible, consistent with thoroughness in every detail, for their chosen life work.

It has thus far graduated eighty-six young men, all of whom except one or two are employed in their profession or continuing advanced studies. They are engaged not only in this State, but in nearly every mining camp in the different states and territories.

The growth and high position it has taken among similar institutions throughout the world in so short a time has been phenomenal. It must be admitted that time has demonstrated the fact that this school was wisely established and that its location in the heart of the great mining industries of the State was judicious.

The State has just reason to be proud of the northern peninsula with its great and diversified mineral industries, and it should not be unmindful of its educational institutions so well adapted to the training of its young men in lines calculated to aid greatly in the development of her unparalleled resources.

At the time of the visit of the committee to the school there were enrolled 124 students, with an actual attendance of 111. This increase in number of students, which is likely to continue each successive year, requires that in addition to an annual appropriation for maintenance, some steps should be taken to relieve especially the departments of chemistry and physics from their present overcrowded condition by making available the basement of Science Hall for the physical department, re-fitting and remodeling the heating apparatus, remodeling the chemical department, constructing a fire assay building, and further equipping the other departments, especially that of electricity, so that the announced course of studies can be carried on in a manner which will do justice to each student. Estimates of the cost of this work have been submitted by the Board of Control and the expenditure for such purposes is approved by the committee.

This appropriation is especially needed because of the fact that with the approval of the Board of Control a bill has been introduced before the present legislature, and is now pending, to amend the organic act under which the school exists, so as to provide, among other things, for the charge of a tuition fee and other incidental expense to non-residents of the State, and because when that policy shall be adopted the institution ought to be sufficiently equipped to enable it to give instruction in the full course of subjects announced in its catalogue and prospectus. Such announcements have been based upon the plans of the board as formulated in 1893.

Both the Board of Control and the faculty seem confident that when these equipments are made the school will be able to do much towards sustaining itself.

The law applicable to our other State institutions where the appropriation terminates with the close of the calendar year immediately preceding the session of the legislature, provides that the managers of boards of control of such institutions may to avoid what is termed an emergency appropriation for maintaining the same, expend for the period of six months a pro rata amount equal to the last previous annual appropriation for the same, such amount to be deducted from the annual appropriation when made. The Mining School seems to be an exception to these provisions, and as under its organic act no expenditure can be made in advance of the appropriation, many embarrassments must in nature of things arise, for which some provision should be made. To avoid this and the unnecessary delay incident to emergency bills, the legislature should make suitable and similar provisions for this school, and a bill is now before the legislature providing for this emergency and its passage is recommended by this committee.

The Board of Control have by resolution decided to ask the legislature to change the name of this institution from "Michigan Mining School" to "Michigan College of Mines" in order that its name may be more in accord with its course of instruction as set forth in its catalogue and in order to give it by its name a proper standing when compared with similar institutions both in this country and abroad. We approve their action in this regard and recommend that the change in name be made, and that the bill now before the legislature for that purpose should pass.

There is now pending in congress a bill to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the endowment and support of mining schools in the several states and territories for the purpose of extending similar aid in the development of the mining industries of the nation as already provided for the agricultural and mechanical arts. The bill as it was reported from the committee on mines and mining provides for the payment to each state and territory for the endowment and maintenance of schools of mines in the several states and territories for the benefit of the mining and metallurgical industries the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for the first year, to be increased annually at the rate of one thousand dollars a year for ten years, and then to remain at twenty-five thousand dollars annually. The committee is informed that this bill is likely to pass either at the present session of congress or at the special session which it is expected will be called by the new administration, and in providing for the charging of tuition fees to non-residents of the State it would be well to so guard the matter as not to interfere with the receiving of the benefits conferred by this bill in case it should pass. The prospects are that the State very soon will be materially assisted in the support of the Mining School by the Federal Government.

The Board of Control has furnished to the committee a certificate of the county clerk of Houghton county, showing the amount of State taxes apportioned to that county for the past ten years. From 1887 to 1890 inclusive, of that period, specific taxes were paid by the mining companies which are not included in the statement, but without these specific taxes Houghton county alone has paid to the State more than the entire cost to the State of the Mining School, including buildings, equipment and running expenses. The certificate referred to is attached to this report and it is clear that the mining industries of the State pay to the State Treasury a sum, a small part of which only has been appropriated for this institution, which has been and will be of such great importance to the State in the development of its magnificent mineral resources.

It seems to be generally conceded that the course of instruction in this school in mining engineering and its cognate branches is not excelled by that given in any similar institution in this or any other country. Were its other advantages in all respects equal in other institutions, yet its proximity to the great mining enterprises of our State affords to this institution rare facilities for the study of mining engineering as a profession, which are lacking in other schools of the same kind. It places the student in a mining atmosphere and in touch with mining interests, where mining problems are always under discussion, and where everything in the way of practical work relating to the course of study is always at hand; and within a few miles of the school the most extensive and the most scientific mining in the world is carried on.

To make the study of mining and mining engineering of practical value to the ordinary student, precept and practice, theory and the application of theory, should, from start to finish, go hand in hand, and at the Michigan Mining School it has been designed by the Board of Control to conduct the institution with this end in view, and our investigation of the school leads us to believe that this has been successfully accomplished. In connection with the studies of the student and the lectures of the professors to them, they are from day to day engaged in the laboratories and shops, or in the stamp mill, or in the field work of the engineering classes, or in the actual practical work underground in the mines, and they have an opportunity during their course of instruction not only of learning the theory and science of mining engineering, but of applying that theory and science to the practical problems of the art of mining.

With this we submit a copy of the estimate furnished to us by the Board of Control for the support and maintenance of the school during the coming two years and for the further equipment of the institution in accordance with the plans above suggested, and the committee believes that the expenditures are called for by the requirements of the institution to keep it up to the level of the high standard which the State of Michigan has already attained in its educational work, and the appropriations asked for by the board of control are approved and recommended by this committee.

ARTHUR L. HOLMES,

Chairman.

EDMUND M. BARNARD.

In all cases stamp a (x) in the circle under the name of your party at the head of the ballot. If you desire to vote a straight ticket, including the amendments, nothing further need be done.

Where one candidate is to be elected to any office, and you desire to vote for a candidate not on your party ticket, make a cross in the square before the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket.

Where two or more candidates are to be elected to the same office, and you desire to vote for candidates on different tickets for such office, make a cross in the square before the names of the candidates for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket; also erase an equal number of names of candidates on your party ticket for the same office for whom you do not desire to vote.

If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket write or place the name of such candidate on your ticket opposite the name of the office.

If you wish to vote only for the amendments, or any of them, make a cross (x) in the square before the words "For the amendment—YES."

If you wish to vote against the amendments, or any of them, make a cross (x) in the square before the words "For the amendment—NO."

When other questions are submitted to the electors, they shall be placed on the official ballot in the same manner in which the amendments are, as nearly as may be. Before leaving the booth fold the ballot so that the initials of the inspector may be seen on the outside.

fellow countrymen, listening to the words of our President, little thinking that in a few weeks he would fall by the assassin's bullet; but so it proved. Then in the midst of war, with a large portion of our countrymen rebellious, no thoughtful man at that time but felt anxiety as to the outcome. Now, Mr. President, on the same spot, in the midst of peaceful surroundings, with a loyal and united people, and the best wishes of the nation, the inauguration takes place. I congratulate my fellow citizens on a united country, loyal to the flag, with a glorious heritage, a common history and a common destiny. Under present conditions our flag floats over a vast domain and covers a people with as much of liberty and the benefits arising therefrom as in any country on the face of this globe. Over all our vast domain the "sun rises upon no bondman and sets upon no slave."

In President Lincoln's inaugural, to which I have referred, although in the midst of rebellion, his message contained no spirit of revenge or severity—rather a calm, dispassionate argument, recalling his erring fellow countrymen back again to loyalty and to duty. In it and running through it there was a trace of sadness, and a longing for the return of our citizens in rebellion. It seems to me fitting, on this occasion, in contrasting our present conditions with the past, to read to you the closing sentence of Mr. Lincoln's message, and to commend its spirit to my fellow citizens: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, and to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

The remarks of Mr. Hadsall were substantially as follows:

Mr. President: I am glad to have this opportunity of supporting this resolution. I am confident that all the people of this great republic, without regard to political party affiliation, are proud of the fact that where a candidate for the high office of President of the United States receives the majority vote, he can be inaugurated, and, at the time of such inauguration, be the respected and honored executive of all the people.

I am sure I voice the sentiment of all when I say we are willing to enjoy better conditions, and anxious that the conditions be such that both the rich and poor may alike prosper.

We are expecting the new administration to bring about such results. I love my country, and hope President McKinley will so administer the affairs of this great republic that an American citizen, whether he be the richest or the poorest, shall be respected and protected in every country on the globe, where the stars and stripes shall be his protection, and his American citizenship be his password to the enjoyment of all the liberties and rights such citizenship implies. This is a country where majorities rule and minorities submit. Great issues come before the people, and men differ as to methods to be employed to accomplish the desired results, but all aim at the same conclusion.

And when the votes are counted and the result of the election declared, we, as a law-loving and law-abiding people, accept the result and acknowledge the successful candidate as our President. I want this great land of ours to be and remain the greatest of all. I want our President to be the most respected of all rulers. I believe in progression, and I want this administration to be the best this country has ever had. I want to see the people happier, the whole country at large more prosperous, and the laws so administered as to bring the greatest good to the greatest number. I congratulate the new administration on its opportunities to accomplish these things.

The remarks of Mr. Hughes were substantially as follows:

Mr. President: It is very fitting that I should take the oath of allegiance again to the old flag; that is what they told me in the last campaign, but, fellow citizens, as Senator Preston has well said we do feel a great responsibility and a great responsibility rests upon the Republican party.

I believe, as a gentleman said, that we should get up here and confess our sins and not get back into the band wagon until we get what you promised us, bimetallism. And sound money means just what I said during the campaign, it is the sound of the rattle of the wagon over the hills to the poor-house. However, Mr. President, while I take the oath of allegiance for McKinley as my President, do not forget that we have a Governor, and if you do not turn him down, I certainly shall not turn down William McKinley.

The remarks of Mr. Lawrence were substantially as follows:

There is only one class of people who have had to come and swear their allegiance to this country, and they were the traitors of the nation. I hope that Mr. Hughes has never been one of them, and if he feels so, may God have mercy upon him. As for myself, I feel proud of William McKinley as President of these United States, and I believe that as has been demonstrated by Mr. Hughes a great responsibility rests upon the republican party, but they assumed a great responsibility in 1860 and came out victorious and they will come out victorious in the next four years.

The remarks of Mr. Youmans were substantially as follows:

Mr. President: In speaking to the resolution before the Senate I also rejoice, in like manner, from the fact that I heartily agree with McKinley's actions during his terms in the 49th, 50th and 51st congress in advocating that both gold and silver was the money of the constitution and the money of the American people.

I also rejoice that the people are released of the man and his administration who turned traitor to those who placed him at the head of the government.

We are all looking for the coming prosperity promised us by the leaders of the grand old party and earnestly hope that as the people gave the party plenty of votes, they will keep their promise to the people and give them a return of prosperity.

The remarks of Mr. Jibb were substantially as follows:

Mr. President: I feel a good deal as I used to when I was in the habit of attending religious services. I feel that it is good for me to be here. I feel as I did in 1860, when I was fighting side by side with our honored President McKinley, that I was on the right side. I feel as I did when I constrains them to say that the party that receives the largest number of votes in this republic may be peacefully inaugurated.

I am glad not only that the majority rules in this country, but I rejoice in another thing, and that is that in this great republic we have had two christian gentlemen as our standard bearers.

Not a word did I hear against the President of the United States, as he is now, William McKinley. Not a word was said against the christian purity and the christian patriotism of the standard bearer of my party, William J. Bryan.

And we may well rejoice that the time has come when all political parties have seen the necessity of putting forth their best men for the positions of trust and political preferment. I am glad for another thing, and that is that Mr. McKinley, inaugurated today President of the United States, represents the principles of bimetallism, although he may have a different policy in reaching the same result, yet at the same time the principles that he presented to the people indicate to us that he is just as much of a bimetallist as I am myself. He proposes to secure it through international understanding, and no one will rejoice more than myself if he shall be able to accomplish that great end, because prosperity will come to this nation. I rejoice that I am an American citizen, and I hope to live long, although my head is grey, to cast my ballot for some man that shall represent those principles.

The remarks of Senator Mason were substantially as follows:

Mr. President: It was not my intention to add anything to the many warm words of congratulation of the President elect that we have listened to with so much satisfaction, but with the good deacons of the Senate I feel that it is good to be here; to have this opportunity to show my appreciation of the great fact that we are now once more living under a republican administration, with William McKinley, the greatest American of the day, at its head.

While we congratulate ourselves and William McKinley upon the fact that today he becomes President of the greatest country under the sun; while we congratulate ourselves and this great nation that the last democratic administration has gone into that condition of "innocuous desuetude" to which it consigned so many federal officers during the last four years, let us also congratulate the President and ourselves, on the further fact, that this nation of seventy millions of people bows gracefully to the will of the majority as expressed in their ballots, and also that our silver friends join with us in our rejoicings today, and now looking forward a short distance in the future, I see the republican party with all its pledges fulfilled, once more united with its silver brethren, marching on to glorious victory hereafter.

The remarks of Senator Forsyth were substantially as follows:

Mr. President: I did not intend to say anything on this occasion, but I fear if I do not I will be accused of sulking in my tent, and I will therefore say that, as a democrat, I rejoice with all the people of this country, and whatever may have been said, I think they all feel glad that the administration just passed, which has been so full of error and misfortune, has ceased to exist, and I am glad that William McKinley has been inaugurated and feel that it cannot be any worse, and I sincerely hope that this administration may be better.

Rev. C. C. Miller, Second Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, on invitation of the Senate, addressed the Senate substantially as follows:

Mr. President and Senators: I have learned a few things in my short life, among them, this: "Never to attempt to gild refined gold or paint the lily," and after listening to the flood of eloquence with which we have been blessed, and especially the protestations of loyalty and patriotism on the part of our opponents, it occurs to me that nothing remains for me to add save the pronouncing of the benediction.

In the divine work we read how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity. It is like the ointment upon Aaron's beard, which flowed down even to the skirts of his garments, and, I will venture to add, sent up a most grateful perfume to the onlooking men and angels.

The resolution was then adopted by a unanimous vote.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE OFFICERS.

The President announced the following:

STATE LAND OFFICE,
Lansing, Mich., March 2, 1897.

To the President of the Senate:

In compliance with a resolution of the Senate, adopted February 18, 1897, I have the honor to submit herewith such information as the Senate desires with regard to this office.

There are two State land examiners whose expenses and salaries are paid on bills rendered to and allowed by the Board of State Auditors, and in addition thereto there have, from time to time, been extra examiners employed to examine lands coming under the supervision of this office known as "Tax Homestead Lands" under provisions of act 206 of the laws of 1893, which has greatly increased the expenses of this department. But this act has been of vast importance and advantage to the people of Michigan; one hundred and eleven townships in twenty-five counties of the State have taken advantage of said act, and applications have been made by many more townships. Under the provisions of this act 368,402.96 acres of tax lands have been deeded to the State by the Auditor General; 1,150 homestead certificates have been issued amounting to 80,832.35 acres, leaving 287,570.61 acres subject to entry. Fifty-nine townships have made application to the Auditor General and the Commissioner of the State Land Office for examination of lands under the provisions of Sec. 127, act 206, laws of 1893. Twenty-one townships are now ready for examination; 12 townships have been examined, reported to the land office, and are now in the hands of the Auditor General for deeding.

The examinations are made upon requests of township boards. Books, plats and circulars have been prepared and the work systematized so as best to carry out the provisions and intent of the act. A complete list of the lands has been prepared and printed from time to time, and mailed on application in order to aid and assist those seeking homes and lighten their expense.

This land is obtainable by actual settlers upon payment of ten cents per acre for five years without real estate tax during that time, thereby giving to the settler, in a short time, a farm and a home at a light cost, and men of energy not only from Michigan but from other States are seeking homes within our own borders, and as I stated in my last annual report, "These are the men that the State is sending into these barren places, men of energy and muscle; men who will, in a few years, make gardens in the now wilderness, build school houses and churches, add health and wealth and vitality to the communities, and rear families that will grow up into manhood and womanhood with a high patriotic love for the State that gave to their fathers and mothers, not as charity, but as a legacy to her deserving children, the vast tracts that shall have become by their toil and skill rich valleys and productive plains and fertile fields."

"The expense to the State has, undoubtedly, been greater this first year than it will be in subsequent years, but no person who has the best interests of the State at heart will complain of reasonable expense along the line of this great and beneficent plan to better the condition of thousands of our citizens, while at the same time we add to the population of sparsely settled districts and benefit township, county and State by an equalization of taxes based on the paying taxable property of the townships."

This department now controls in addition to the 400,000 acres of tax homestead land, 102,435.81 acres of swamp land; 200,000 acres of primary school land; 100,553 acres of Agricultural College land, and 1,600 acres of salt spring and asylum land.

Many of the original records in this department have become badly mutilated and nearly obliterated, and should be compiled in a concise form easily traced. Such a compilation has been commenced, but the necessity for expedition in promptly meeting the demands of the people for information to be received only through this department, this work has been so interfered with that but a small part of it has been completed. This is a matter of great importance, and requires the attention of very competent, careful and conscientious persons to prepare, as upon these records is based the title to every acre of land acquired.

Trespas collections up to June 30, 1896, during Commissioner French's administration, from March 21, 1894, have been $13,361.65.

On demand of Mr. Preston,

The resolution was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal, as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate:

Resolved, By Progress Farmers' Club, consisting of 150 members, residents of the townships of Tuscola, Arbela and Vassar, Tuscola county, assembled in our regular monthly meeting, on this third day of March, 1897;

First, That we are most emphatically opposed to any special appropriations being granted to the Michigan School for the Deaf by the present legislature. We also believe that the estimated expenses of the school for the next two years are too extravagant and unnecessary, being $50,000 more than ever asked for by any of Mr. Clarke's predecessors; therefore we do respectfully request that the amount asked for be materially reduced.

Second, We believe the salaries of a large majority of the officials of this school are exorbitant and out of proportion to the ability and time expended by those engaged, especially so the salary of superintendent.

Third, The superintendent in his latest report urges the necessity of an appropriation of $36,000 for a school building, giving for his reasons that the health and eyes of the pupils are being injured by being crowded into small, dark rooms. We would respectfully suggest that this could be partially remedied by taking the superintendent's $10,000 mansion for a school building.

C. M. PIERCE,

President, Elva.

F. A. BRADLEY,

Secretary, Vassar.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE OFFICERS.

The President announced the following:

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Lansing, March 10, 1897.

To the President of the Senate:

In compliance with the resolution of the Senate, I have the honor to submit herewith such information as the Senate desires with regard to this office.

Act No. 87 of the public acts of 1891, as amended by act No. 127 of the public acts of 1893, gives much of the information called for.

The Attorney General receives $2.19 a day, and is permitted to hire, if necessary, clerical assistance to the amount of $3,000. But by reason of the new and extra duties that have been imposed upon the Attorney General, and especially by act No. 164 of the public acts of 1895, by which every corporation in this State is required to make annual reports and upon failure so to do the Attorney General must take legal steps to compel them, and the great number of tax cases, the absolute necessity of an increase of appropriation was recognized by the Governor and the Board of State Auditors, and accordingly a temporary appropriation of $1,200 a year was made until the legislature now assembled could, by a general act, increase the appropriation. So that with this additional amount of $1,200, the entire appropriation for the Attorney General's office, including his own salary, is $5,000. I have three regular assistants—Henry E. Chase, George H. Kuhns and Roger I. Wykes. Mr. Chase and Mr. Kuhns have been employed in the department since I have been Attorney General. Chase is 33; Kuhns, 34, and Wykes, 23 years respectively. Mr. Wykes has been here since the temporary arrangement as aforesaid. Mr. Chase has, in fact, for the last three years, discharged the duties of Deputy Attorney General, and has received the deputy's pay. Mr. Kuhns receives, as stenographer and head clerk, $85.00; Mr. Wykes as a special attorney, is receiving pay at the present time at the rate of $100 per month. In this connection, I think it would be profitable to make a general resume of the duties that I, as Attorney General, am called upon to perform.

1. The prosecution and defense in behalf of the State of all actions in the Supreme Court.

2. To appear for the State in any other courts, when directed by the Governor and legislature.

3. To prosecute and defend suits on request of State officers.

4. To consult with and advise prosecuting attorneys.

5. To give opinions to the legislature and the members thereof.

6. Adviser to and represents the State before the Board of State Auditors.

7. To bring proceedings for the removal of certain public officials from office.

8. To bring action against railroad companies for neglect to pay their taxes.

9. To bring proceedings to collect penalties for violations of provisions of the law relating to brokers and exchange dealers.

10. To prosecute suits for the violation of railroad laws.

11. To examine and approve articles of association of life insurance companies, and bring proceedings against them for forfeiture, etc.

12. To examine and approve articles of association of mutual fire insurance companies, and bring proceedings for forfeitures, etc.

13. To examine and approve articles of association of fire and marine insurance companies.

14. To approve articles of association of millers' insurance companies.

15. To approve articles of plate glass insurance companies.

16. To bring proceedings for the penalty of using unauthorized form of fire insurance policy.

17. He is acting member of the insurance policy commission.

18. To bring proceedings to condemn lands for the use of the State.

19. Is a member of the Board of Auditors of claims growing out of the sale of public lands.

20. A member of the agricultural land grant board.

21. Prosecutes all criminal cases in the Supreme Court.

22. A member of the board of control for reclamation of swamp land.

23. Brings proceedings for the penalty against foreign life insurance companies.

24. To approve bonds of the Secretary of State, Deputy Secretary of State, executive clerk, and private secretary to the Governor.

25. To institute proceedings against corporations for collection of penalty for not filing annual report.

26. To bring proceedings against foreign building and loan associations for any illegal practice.

27. He is expected to give counsel and advice to the Insurance Department, the Banking Department, the Labor Bureau, the Railroad Department, and all the other State departments, besides the State House of Correction and Reformatory at Ionia, State House of Correction and Branch of State Prison in the Upper Peninsula, at Marquette; State Prison at Jackson; Michigan Asylum for Dangerous and Criminal Insane, at Ionia; Upper Peninsula Asylum for the Insane, at Newberry; Northern Michigan Asylum, at Traverse City; Michigan Asylum for Insane, Kalamazoo; Michigan Home for the Feeble-Minded and Epileptic, Lapeer; Detroit House of Correction; Industrial School for Boys, Lansing; Industrial Home for Girls, Adrian; State Public School, Coldwater; Soldiers' Home, Grand Rapids; Michigan School for the Deaf, Flint; Michigan School for the Blind, Lansing; the State Normal School, Ypsilanti; the State Board of Health; the State Board of Corrections and Charities; State Board of Fish Commission; State Live Stock Sanitary Commission; also, all State boards of control of the various State institutions.

This, in connection with the new work of looking after the delinquent reports of corporations and the great increase of tax cases, and the additional work which every legislature imposes, makes the work of the Attorney General of the most laborious and most responsible character. And, notwithstanding all this, there has been from the beginning an unjustifiable discrimination against this department. What caused this I do not know; but it is a simple fact that this discrimination exists. There is not a department in this capitol building but what, necessarily, has a regular legal deputy, authorized to discharge all the duties of the head of the department during his sickness, absence or other disability. Again, there is not a constitutional office in this building but whose head has the full power to hire and discharge clerks at pleasure, and as many as, in his judgment, the needs of the department require. But nothing of this kind is allowed in the Attorney General's Department. In case the Attorney General should be sick, absent from his post, or from any other cause he could not act, you might just as well shut the doors of the office and lock them, so far as any executive business is concerned, because there is no one there, under the law, to do it. In short, the law governing this department is precisely the same as it was nearly fifty years ago, when this State was a wilderness, and when a member of the constitutional convention of 1850 rose in his place and gravely inquired: "Why should we have an Attorney General anyhow? He would not live here in Lansing, but in Detroit, and how, I ask, could we ever get an opinion from him over these terrible muddy roads, and besides the State has nothing for him to do?"

Speaking, not for myself, but for the department which I at present represent, and for all the people of the State, I most respectfully and most earnestly ask that this unjust discrimination cease; that a law be passed allowing this office a deputy, and that this department be placed upon the same footing as all other departments in this Capitol. As Attorney General I ask for nothing more—I should be content with nothing less. Whatever the legislature, in its wisdom, sees fit to enact in regard to these departments, must be the law and obeyed. I simply ask that the legislation be uniform. There is no department in this building where more elasticity should be allowed than in this department. There are seasons of the year when the necessities of the office would not require so large a force as at other times. But during the sessions of the legislature, it is absolutely necessary that the force should be enlarged. If the work which presses upon this department is to be done, some provision should be made for furnishing the help to do it.

Very respectfully,

FRED A. MAYNARD,

Attorney General.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 336. By Mr. Blakeslee: Memorial of the conference committee on medical legislation of the Eclectic and Physio-Medical Associations of the State in regard to the medical registration bill.

On demand of Mr. Blakeslee,

The memorial was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal, as follows:

Glendora, Mich., March 12, 1897.

To the Members of the Legislature of the State of Michigan, now in session:

We wish to call your attention to the following facts:

1st. That the State of Michigan supports at great expense two medical departments, namely the Regular or Allopathic, and the Homeopathic, at the University of Michigan.

2d. That this is an invasion of the equal rights of those citizens who believe in, and practice, according to the teachings of the Eclectic and Physio-Medical schools of Michigan.

3d. That the State of Michigan has always protected the latter two in their liberty to practice medicine in harmony with the teachings of their schools.

4th. That every two years repeated attempts have been made to curtail the said two schools of medicine in their liberty to practice medicine, by the introduction of bills for the purpose of obtaining an examining board, the control of which shall be in the hands of the "Regular" or "Allopathic" practitioners.

5th. That the answer of the various legislatures to these attempts has been for the different schools of medicine to agree on the higher standard of medical education before asking them to make a law.

6th. That in harmony with this, representatives of the four different schools of medicine have formed a "Medical League" which has drafted a bill providing for higher education and an examining board consisting of members of all four schools, but giving to no one school a majority on said board.

7th. That according to the time honored custom, the "Regular" or "Allopathic" physician, supported at public expense at our University, are now spending the public's time and money by circulating petitions among their own graduates, hundreds of which have been sent to the Senate committee on Public Health, asking them to defeat the just features of the above named bill by omitting the provisions made in it for representatives of all schools on the medical examining board.

8th. That an examining board of candidates for admission to the practice of medicine which might be controlled by any one sect or school of medicine would result in as great an injustice as a theological examining board controlled by one sect would be to candidates of all other sects.

9th. That the State of Michigan, by its proper officials, the State Board of Health, has given these professors and practitioners, on whom public money has been so lavishly spent, a chance to show their superior knowledge of a subject on which all systems of medicine agree, by inviting all graduates of reputable medical colleges to be examined at Lansing on sanitary science. See report of State Board of Health, 1880, pages 269-276, also page xlviii.

10th. That at the two annual examinations held by our State Board of Health to which all graduates of reputable medical colleges had been invited for the purpose of obtaining a higher standard of medical education for health officers in this State, only three candidates presented themselves for examination, of whom two were Allopaths and one Physio-Medical. Of these, one Allopath failed, leaving Dr. Henry B. Baker, secretary of the State Board of Health at Lansing, the only Allopath that passed, and M. Veenboer, A. M., M. D., Physico-Medical, of Grand Rapids, the other successful candidate. After this the examinations were suspended for want of candidates.

11th. That this proves not "Allopathic" superiority, but their inferiority in useful knowledge the more, because the name of H. B. Baker, M. D., among the successful candidates shows that their best men were competitors.

12th. The above facts show sufficient cause for the unjust efforts made by certain Allopaths to obtain control of the Michigan Medical Examining Board, proving that they are more anxious to examine than to be examined.

13th. We therefore petition your honorable body, first, to protect our liberty, by passing the bill drafted by the "Michigan State Legislation League," providing that the examining board therein specified shall consist of four Allopaths, two Eclectics, two Homeopaths, and one Physio-Medical; and second, to redress our wrongs, and restore our rights, by withdrawing all State support from the medical department of the Michigan University, or by putting all medical schools upon the same footing therein, by providing for the appointment of men belonging to each of the four schools of medicine upon the faculty of the medical department, in such fair and just proportion that no school shall have a majority in said medical faculty of the University.

By order of conference committee on medical legislation of the Eclectic and Physio-Medical State Medical Societies.

The memorial was referred to the committee on Public Health.

Sec. 2. The mayor shall appoint three suitable resident electors of the city for the terms hereinafter set forth, and who shall be known as the "Board of Poor Commissioners of the City of Grand Rapids."

Sec. 3. Two members of said board shall be appointed each year on the first Monday in May, or within a reasonable time thereafter, one for a term of two years and the other for a term of one year, and both until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. Such appointments shall be governed by the provisions of title II of this act in relation to the appointment of officers solely by the mayor. The member appointed each year for the term of one year shall, during such year, give his entire time and personal attention to the work of the department, shall investigate and obtain personal knowledge of the needs and circumstances of persons applying for assistance, under the direction and control of the board, and shall receive for his services such compensation as shall be fixed by the common council, not exceeding one thousand dollars per annum; but the mayor may at any time for cause revoke the appointment of the member so appointed for one year and appoint another in his place. The two members appointed for the two year term shall receive no compensation. Each member, at the beginning of his term, shall give bond as provided for the members of other boards.

Sec. 4. Such board shall be vested with the entire charge and care of poor persons entitled to relief in the city of Grand Rapids; and for that purpose shall have the same powers and authority as supervisors acting as directors of the poor in townships in the counties of the State where the poor are cared for under what is known as the township system, and shall be subject to the same duties and liabilities as such directors of the poor in that regard: Provided, however, That said board may adopt such plan and system in the administration of the poor laws in the city of Grand Rapids as they may deem adapted to secure the greatest efficiency in carrying out the purposes and spirit of the law in the care and relief of the poor.

Sec. 5. The common council shall provide said board with a suitable office and other necessary rooms, furniture and fixtures, and other proper facilities to enable it successfully to carry into execution the duties imposed upon it. The board shall have power and it shall be their duty to employ such assistants as may be necessary to carry on the work in their charge efficiently, to fix their compensation, prescribe their duties, and to discharge them at will. The board shall have power to make all necessary rules and regulations for the government of the work of the board, the appointment of its officers and committees and for the guidance of its members and employes in the transaction of the business of the department in all its details. It shall provide for and cause to be made, careful, kindly, but thorough investigation into the actual circumstances and needs of all applicants for support or assistance, so as to discover, ascertain and provide for all who are worthy and entitled to relief, and reject all improper and unworthy applications. It shall have the power, when deemed wise, to impose a labor test on persons asking for assistance from the city, requiring them to perform such labor as may be provided in return and compensation for the assistance which may be furnished such persons. It may purchase such supplies and other materials as in its judgment may be necessary for the proper performance of its duties hereunder. Until the city shall procure and maintain a hospital of its own, the board shall be authorized to place dependent poor persons, who have been disabled by accident or who are sick, in the private hospitals of the city for surgical operations or medical treatment when they shall deem it necessary, on reasonable terms.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of such commissioners to prepare and submit to the common council of said city for ratification or amendment on or before the first Monday of May of each year, an estimate of the probable cost and expense of maintaining the poor department and caring for the poor of said city for the ensuing year, specifying the objects of expenditure in detail, and the sum desired for each, with such special reasons for the same as the board may have. The amounts of money so estimated to be necessary, or such amount as the common council shall by resolution determine to be necessary, shall be certified by the city clerk of said city to the comptroller with other sums determined to be raised by tax in accordance with the provisions of the charter of said city, and the sum when collected and paid into the city treasury shall be kept as a separate fund to be known as the "poor fund," and shall be expended only on the order of said board for the purposes authorized by the estimate and resolution of the council, aforesaid. Said board shall not be authorized to incur any indebtedness nor enter into any contract not provided for or included in said detailed annual estimate for such fiscal year, unless specially authorized so to do by a majority vote of all the members elect of the common council of said city. All accounts, claims and demands for or on account of all matters in charge of the board shall be itemized and verified and when allowed by the board shall be certified to the comptroller of said city, who shall report the same to the council for payment, and they may also report without recommendation to the comptroller any claim or demand presented to them, the validity of which may be in doubt. Such board shall also on the first Monday in August, after the passage of this act, and on the first Monday of every third month thereafter render to the common council an itemized statement of all the expenses incurred and disbursements made by it for the three months preceding such statement, which shall be filed in the office of the city clerk and become a part of the official records thereof.

Sec. 7. Said board shall keep a careful record of all persons admitted to the county poorhouse on the order of the board, and of the time they are supported therein at city expense, and shall have the right and it shall be their duty to examine the account presented by the superintendents of the poor to the board of supervisors for all persons maintained in the county home aforesaid at the expense of the city, before the same is allowed and ordered spread upon the tax rolls of the city by said board of supervisors.

Sec. 8. The board in office at the date of the passage of this act shall continue in office until the expiration of their existing terms respectively and until their successors are appointed and qualified hereunder.

Sec. 9. No length of actual residence by any person within the city while supported wholly or partially at the expense of the county or any township shall operate to give such person a settlement in the city.

Sec. 10. In case any person is abandoned, neglected or not maintained and likely to become chargeable upon the city for his support, the county superintendents of the poor shall have the same right to take possession of and proceed against the property of the husband or parent responsible therefor, that they have by the general laws of the State when such person is liable to become chargeable upon the county or township.

laws of the State, shall be a charge against the county of Kent. whether the same be first audited and paid by the city of Grand Rapids or not, and shall be ordered paid by the board of supervisors upon presentation of such charges duly audited and verified by the said board of health.

Page 114, in title VIII, Sec. 1, amend the same by striking out all of the first sentence thereof and insert in lieu thereof the following:

There shall be three assessors within the corporate limits of the city of Grand Rapids, who shall be known as "The Board of Assessors of the city of Grand Rapids," each of whom shall hold his office for the term of three years and until his successor is appointed by the mayor and duly qualified, and whose powers and duties shall be as hereinafter provided.

When your committee takes into consideration the financial condition of the taxpayers, and that the passage of this bill would necessitate the raising of $68,000 to reimburse the treasury for the amount so drawn, we are of the unanimous opinion that as an economical administration of the financial affairs of this State is required of this legislature, the passage of this bill would be an unwise draft upon the public funds.

The bill was referred to the committee of the whole and placed on the general order.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The President announced the following:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, March 24, 1897.

To the Senate:

I return herewith without my approval Senate bill No. 105, being "An act to amend Sec. 1 of act No. 78 of the public acts of 1887, entitled 'An act to prevent persons from unlawfully using or wearing the badge of the Grand Army of the Republic of this State, or the badge of the Loyal Legion of the United States,' approved April 19, 1887."

Under the act which is repealed by this act any person wearing the badge of the Grand Army of the Republic, or the badge of the Loyal Legion of the United States, or using the same to obtain aid or assistance within this State, unless entitled to use or wear the same under the rules and regulations of the Grand Army of the Republic, or the Loyal Legion, is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court.

The change introduced by the new act is to make the mere wearing of the badge or button, without any intent to defraud others or to commit any crime, a misdemeanor, and subject the wearer to the same punishment. This act, if it becomes a law, will reach every member of the Grand Army of the Republic who happens, for the time being, to be in arrears as to his dues.

It is a notorious fact that many of the old soldiers who belong to these orders, have fallen behind in the payment of their dues, many of them through misfortunes for which they are in no way responsible.

The button of the Grand Army is supposed to be cast from cannon captured by our soldiers. Those who ever had the right to wear it must have offered themselves as a willing sacrifice to save their country. They must have done faithful service and have received honorable discharges. In most cases these men not only risked their own lives but the prosperity of their children. Many of them are now old and poor. They can no longer pay their dues and maintain their good standing in their posts. To call such men criminals is monstrous. The Grand Army has never asked these men to return their buttons. Their more fortunate comrades should be glad to have them wear them as an evidence of honorable service, and if in their misfortunes others should be moved to aid them, all right minded people should rejoice. These men are not criminals and should not be treated as such.

I look upon this bill as an attempt to collect dues through a criminal statute, and to punish the unfortunate and poor so as to aid those who trade on their Grand Army connections for political purposes, to keep up their organization. I will not be a party to such ingratitude on the part of the State. Fraud should be punished, but I can see no reason why the present law is not amply sufficient to provide against fraud or deception. Laws are brought into contempt by making those things crimes which are not so in fact.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE.

The President announced the following:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Lansing, April 13, 1897.

To the President of the Senate:

Sir—I am instructed by the House to transmit the following bill:

House bill No. 1212, entitled

An act to revise and amend the charter of the city of Flint;

Which passed the House March 18, 1897, as will appear by message of that date, and which passed the Senate March 23, 1897, as appears by the message from the Senate of that date, and which was returned to the House by the Governor, April 2, without his approval, his objections thereto being as follows:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Lansing, April 2, 1897.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives:

Gentlemen—I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 1212, entitled “An act to revise and amend the charter of the city of Flint.”

Since this document came into my hands I have received protests from more than 1,600 electors of the city of Flint, protesting against this charter becoming a law.

I have also received letters and telegrams from 33 persons, also electors of the city of Flint, asking me to sign it.

I have accorded to the persons interested on each side a hearing, so as to arrive as nearly as possible at the wishes of the people of the city who are interested in this act. It has been made clear to me that the people of Flint have had no opportunity to examine this charter before its passage; that important changes are made in which all the people of that city have a deep interest.

I am aware that under our present system, and in the hurry of legislation it is impossible for the legislature to examine with any care, charters prepared in this way, and that it is the usual practice to take the word of the local representatives as to whether or not they are desired by the persons interested in them. The system is one attended with many mischiefs.

Those who protest against the charter under consideration claim to be a majority of the electors of the city to be affected. It is a striking circumstance of the necessity of some provision by which home rule may be given to our cities, and the people to be affected may make such changes in their organic law as suit themselves, and as cover the conditions existing. A change in the present system would secure to every municipality a charter in accordance with the sentiments of its people. It would at the same time save the legislature from a waste of many months which are taken up in passing local measures, and give the representatives of the people time to consider matters of general State importance.

I cannot too strongly condemn the practice which prevails and which permits a few people in any city to go to the legislature and obtain the passage of an act in which all the people are interested, but in which only a few are consulted.

Home rule in cities, as well as in states, is the only rule consistent with our system of government. The other system permits a few designing people to impose upon their fellow citizens obnoxious laws, and a system of government which they disapprove. In a republic the majority should rule, and no change should be made in the charter of a city, except by the consent of the people of that city.

But I do not discuss any of the provisions contained in this charter. My objection to it is that it is obnoxious to the people who are to be affected by it, or to the majority of them.

Under these circumstances I cannot approve it.

Very respectfully,
H. S. PINGREE,
Governor.

And now to inform the Senate that the said bill has been passed by the House of Representatives, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding, by a two-thirds majority vote of all the members elect, and in which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully asked.

Very respectfully,
LEWIS M. MILLER,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The question being on the passage of the bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding,

The bill was then passed, two-thirds of all the Senators elect voting therefor, by yeas and nays, as follows:

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Lawrence moved to take from the table,
Senate bill No. 315, entitled

A bill to repeal act No. 236 of the session laws of 1895, entitled "An act to create the office of State Statistician, and to define his powers and duties and provide compensation therefor;"

Which motion prevailed.

On motion of Mr. Lawrence,

The bill was referred to the committee on Judiciary.

---

Mr. Covell moved that the Senate adjourn,

Which motion prevailed, and

The President pro tem declared the Senate adjourned until 2 o'clock p. m. tomorrow.

---

Lansing, Tuesday, April 20, 1897.

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment and was called to order by the President.

Religious exercises by Rev. Fr. Slattey.

Roll called: quorum present.

Senator Hughes arose to a question of personal privilege.

He then addressed the Senate as follows:

"Mr. President: It has come to my knowledge that in remarks last Friday on the matron bill, I referred to the arrest of several disorderly women and men, and that the absence of several senators might be accounted for by reason of this incident. Mr. President, I disclaim any intention to reflect on any member of this Senate, and I only made the remark as a joke, and never supposed it would be taken seriously. and I am glad to make this explanation, as it was furthest from my desire to cast any discourtesy on any member of this body. But, Mr. President, as the absent members, like Caesar's wife, are above suspicion, I hardly deem this explanation necessary, but gladly make it in justice to them."

Senator Thompson arose to a question of personal privilege.

He then addressed the Senate as follows:

"Mr. President: I arise to a question of privilege, in the debate that took place upon the police matron bill.

"The Detroit Journal published a statement that I said: 'Detroit is the only city in Michigan where police matrons are needed.'

"On the contrary, I said, 'Detroit, Grand Rapids and Saginaw had provided separate wards and police matrons,' and that I thought there was no necessity for passing a mandatory bill, directing smaller cities to provide separate station houses or wards and police matrons for female offenders.

"I thought as the larger cities of the State had found it necessary to establish these arrangements and regulations, so the matter could be safely left to smaller cities, that when the necessity arose we could depend on their sense of humanity, decency and propriety to make the provisions which had already been established in the larger cities of the State.

"I thought it unnecessary to burden the smaller cities with the expense of maintaining separate police stations, police matrons where there is no necessity for it, considering the hard times."
